

WAR PLANS OF U. S. ARE PROTESTED BY ITALY

Would Force America to Declare Against Austria; Ask Money and Supplies

AUSTRIAN FRONT HELD KEY TO VICTORY

Diplomats of Allies Are Busy Trying to Soothe Feelings of Latin Nation; Situation Keen

WASHINGTON, August 2.—Italy is displeased at her failure to get from her allies, particularly America, supplies she says are needed and which she claims could avert the war balance.

This displeasure apparently has caused a delicate situation upon which allied diplomats here are now laboring. For several days past the English, French and Russian ambassadors have consulted at length with the Italian envoys, evidently in an effort to allay the Italian's feelings. The Italian viewpoint of recent days is known to be one bordering on resentment over the fact that her pleas for materials and money have gone virtually unheeded.

Meantime, Italian propaganda is trying to force the United States to war on Austria and has spread the word that Italy could win the war if she had coal, munitions and money for an Austrian offensive.

Allied and American military men say, however, that Italy's situation is "impossible" from the military standpoint and that she is not in a position to drain on her resources. Moreover, they dispute the Italian claims that there is sufficient shipping to handle needs if there was an inclination to do so.

Italy could end the war by Christmas and open the way to peace negotiations by New Year's," said a man close to the Italian embassy today. "The war cannot be won by the Americans. It is fighting, however, for it would take four million Americans to break the western front effectively. And by the time America can get four million men to the front, Germany will have won the war."

The ambassadors evidently are trying to dissuade Italy from standing pat on her insistence that the United States declare war on Austria, while at the same time they are working out a solution of the supplies question.

ONE TAX REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—In further revision of the war tax bill, the senate finance committee today decided to reduce from 15 to 10 per cent the tax rate on corporations' undistributed surplus, which the interest have vigorously opposed. The new ten per cent rate also would not be applicable to undistributed surplus "actually invested and employed in business or retained for employment in the reasonable requirements of the business."

The change was made in what is known as the Jones amendment, and virtually is a sur-tax on corporate incomes. The modification provides that should corporations retain surplus income ostensibly to use in their business and then hold the surplus without using it, the original 15 per cent rate shall apply.

SUFFRAGE BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Woman's suffrage is the subject of a Senate Committee of Iowa, Johnson of California, Jones of Washington, Norris of Nebraska, and Gronna of North Dakota, made an unsuccessful attempt in the Senate this afternoon to force prompt action on the Susan B. Anthony national-wide suffrage amendment.

After two hours of sharp debate, the motion of Senator Cummins to discharge the woman's suffrage committee from consideration of the amendment and hasten action by the senate went to the calendar automatically under the rules.

German Envoy Admits Spies Are Working in U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Direct admission that German spies were working in the United States was made by Herr von Eckhardt, German minister to Mexico, according to a special cablegram from Mexico City published in the Herald today.

It follows:

"Mexico City, via Galveston, Aug. 1.—The most cordial relations exist between Mexico and the United States, and my country will never do anything tending to implicate Mexico in the world war."

"The statement was made to the Herald by Herr von Eckhardt, German minister to Mexico, when he was asked if Germany is keeping up a well organized secret service in this country. Herr von Eckhardt freely admitted that there are several secret agents in the United States, and when he needs any information he calls on them."

Declares Two Of Lynchers Are Known

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 2.—Attorney William Sullivan, legal representative of the Butte I. W. W. Miners' Union, today declared that at least two of the men who participated in the lynching of Frank Little are known. He said their identity was discovered through threats made against Little, before he was hanged.

Complaint that they have received three "2-7-7" warnings of the Montana vigilantes was made by several other members of the local I. W. W. union today.

A number of telegrams were exchanged during the month between Federal officials here and various departments at Washington, but the nature of these communications were not revealed.

In a bulletin issued by the Metal Mine Workers' Union today the statement is made that the names of five of the "lynching party" are known. "Two of these men," it is declared, "gunmen," one is connected with law enforcement." The bulletin adds:

"Threats have already been made that if we succeed in proving who committed this crime, we will never live. We want to inform them that three copies of every bit of information we have are deposited in three different places, to be used in case they succeed in setting any of us free. We know already that all are prepared in advance for every one of the murderers, yet we have evidence that will break every alibi completely, and when we finish some very prominent murderers will be headed for the gallows, or Deer Lodge penitentiary."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Receipt of telegrams threatening a general strike of the miners of the Colorado country if the I. W. W. troubles were not speedily settled brought about immediate action by the government this afternoon. Upon receipt of the telegram from William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, Secretary of Labor Wilson named three conciliators to proceed at once to Gallup, N. M., to attempt to settle the strike troubles.

Telegrams were despatched to Justice George W. Musser and B. Z. Reed of Denver and former Congressman H. H. Seldombridge of Colorado Springs, asking them to rush to Gallup.

The Secretary of Labor was advised this afternoon that the strike of miners at Leadville, Colo., has been settled.

Britain Takes No Part in Peace Parley

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, Aug. 2.—James Henry Thomas, labor member in the House of Commons, warned the government yesterday that if labor members were prevented from discussing peace by a refusal of passports to countries where it is proposed to hold conferences it would be inviting the labor party to step in and force the government's hands.

Premier Lloyd George assured the House that the government had not in the least altered its view on the possible conditions of peace consistent with the honor and security of the country. The debate was on the question of whether the government was acting constitutionally and in the national interest in permitting Arthur Henderson, member of the war council, to accompany a pacifist mission to Germany. Henderson, James MacDonald and George James Wardle, both members of parliament, to Paris.

The government, continued Lloyd George, proposed to take no part in conference such as Henderson described either by a representative or by having any member of the government present. It would allow no sectional conference to dictate terms of peace.

The premier then appealed to the House to preserve unity in order that they might win a victory worthy of the cause for which so many sacrifices have been made."

GOVERNMENT WILL ACT TO END STRIKES

Labor Troubles, Declared Result of German Propaganda, to Be Probed by Officials

I. W. W. Threat to Call General Mine Walkout in Case of Intervention Causes Concern

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Drastic action by the government to meet the labor disturbances in the West and Southwest, which officials are sure have been stirred up by German propaganda, will be taken if the situation shows any growth.

Intimations of an attempt to call out the United Mine Workers should the government not intervene on behalf of the I. W. W. labor disputes in certain sections of the West have resulted in the Department of Justice undertaking a broad general inquiry.

By John Edwin Nevin, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The labor situation throughout the country is becoming increasingly serious. Starting with sporadic outbreaks of Industrial Workers of the World in the West, the troubles have increased until today the danger of general strikes in many industries is very great.

Western and southwestern employers of labor are discharging union officials wholesale, labor leaders here allege. The biggest probable strike at Gallup, N. M., where miners employed by the Gallup Southwestern Coal Company and the Diamond Coal Company have struck in sympathy with more than 100,000 miners deported from a tent colony there by a local organization known as the Gallup Defense Council.

SITUATION BECOMING ONE OF IMPORTANCE

This situation is most serious because the men are members of the United Mine Workers of America. That organization has demanded that the national administration act to end them. A telegram from William Green, a member of the executive board of the United Mine Workers, sent to the White House, demands that President Wilson act to have the men restored to their homes. The telegram says:

"Unless this is done quickly I will favor strike of coal miners of the United States until this outrage is righted."

Industrial Workers of the World situation also is a serious cause for worry. The Department of Justice still is investigating the strength and purposes of this organization. Its secretary and treasurer, William D. Haywood, formerly a power in the Western Federation of Miners, has declared in a telegram to the President, that unless deportation of members in Arizona was stopped he would call home from I. W. W. organizer, has been lynched in Butte, Mont.

For the last couple of weeks the White House has been deluged with letters and telegrams demanding that the I. W. W. be suppressed. Many of these demands have been anonymous, but in several cases the persons making them are well known and responsible. Western lawyers, professing to represent the miners of the Pacific Coast and Intermountain States, have been here in person to demand that the leaders of the I. W. W. be arrested, claiming that they were being lynchings in their agitation by German sympathizers.

INVESTIGATIONS ONLY BAFLE ATTORNEYS

The investigations of the Attorney General's office have failed to substantiate this charge, and it is stated that the percentage of alien membership in the I. W. W. is little more than that in similar organizations of the country. The entire organization and the operations of its leaders are being closely watched.

All information reaching Washington dealing with the threatened labor troubles in various sections of the country is being placed before President Wilson personally as soon as it reaches here.

Today the President had on his desk more than one hundred telegrams dealing with all angles of the subject, from those which demand that labor unions be stamped out of existence to those which protect that capital is trying to kill the labor movement under cover of wartime necessity.

Among the messages is that from William Green, member of the executive committee of the United Mine Workers demanding that the President interfere to have members of that organization restored to their tent homes from which they have been deported at Gallup, N. M., by a "home defense league."

PLAN EXPORTS

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 2.—According to the Berlin Mittag Zeitung the finance minister yesterday declared in the Wuerstemburg chamber of deputies that Germany's watchword after the war must be "export much and import little."

The minister added, the newspaper says, that Germany already had expended $4,000,000,000 marks on the war and that the interest on this sum plus war pensions, etc., would be about $10,000,000,000 marks yearly.

Wholesale Dismissals Follow a Survey of Civil Service Board—Harbor Manager Affected

Council Abolishes Many Offices on Recommendations—$44,322 a Year to Be Saved

More than a score of civil service positions in the municipal government were abolished or consolidated when the city council passed to print ordinances submitted by the civil service board affecting the changes. The positions are in the department of public works and the department of streets. The ordinances were adopted by all members of the council with the exception of Commissioner Jackson, who asked to be excused. The criminal propaganda of irresponsible elements was used by enemy agents and provoked a revolution in Petrograd. At the same time the city council passed an ordinance abolishing the office of harbor manager, which was a position of honor and not of profit. The harbor manager's office was abolished and the duties of the office were assigned to the city engineer.

KEITH IS DROPPED

W. W. Keith, harbor manager, whose resignation was presented to Commissioner Morse on July 11 and withheld, is now without a position, as his office has been abolished by the council's action today. The ordinance will go into effect in eight days.

Other positions in the public works department that have been abolished include Robert Moulds, assistant engineer, and William J. Kelly, chief clerk. William J. Kelly, chief clerk, is now without a position, as his office has been abolished by the council's action today. The ordinance will go into effect in eight days.

General A. A. Brusiloff was a "hold-over" in the Russian army from the old monarchical days. He was first heard of as the Russian army commander in Galicia in 1914, when he occupied Halicz, September 2. In April, 1916, he succeeded General Korniloff as commander of the southern eastern armies and as such directed the Russian drive on this front a few months later.

ASKS FOR DELAY

Commissioner Jackson asked that action on the ordinance be postponed until he had time to read them. "You will have eight days' time," said Commissioner Edwards. "I feel that the communication from the civil service board is sufficient for me to act upon."

In this statement Commissioners Morse, Soderberg and Mayor Davis concurred.

"The civil service board has gone very carefully into the departments," said Commissioner Morse. "You may have this assurance, that if a mistake has been made it can be rectified in the near future. We can give this a trial and if it is a mistake it will be corrected. We have no objection to the board's plan, but we must be careful. It is a plan to be considered carefully. It is an announced plan to obtain the services of an experienced harbor engineer to direct all construction work that is done on the waterfront. He said that so far he has no such engineer in mind, but that the obtaining of such services will be the next important step to be taken in his department."

HAYES CANDIDATE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Congressman E. A. Hayes of San Jose, who is the leading candidate for governor at the next state election, already has several interests at work to further his candidacy, according to reports received in political circles in Los Angeles today.

J. O. Hayes, brother of the Congressman, is now in Washington to confer with Senator Hiram Johnson on his brother's chances in the race.

BIG LOAN TOTAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Additional loans of $188,000,000 to Great Britain and $180,000,000 to France were announced today. This brings the total loaned to the allies up to $1,868,000,000, or more than 63 per cent of the total of three billion dollars authorized by Congress last April.

NAMED TO BOARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The senate commerce committee today named confirmation of Bainbridge Colby, New York, as a member of the Shipping Board.

Russian Army to Fight to End Minister Sends Allies Word

PETROGRAD, Aug. 2.—Foreign Minister Terechenko has sent the following telegram to Russian diplomats accredited to the allied powers:

At a moment when new and grave misfortunes are threatening Russia, the Russian army will give to our allies who have shared with us the burden of trials in the past a firm and definite explanation of our point of view regarding the conduct of the war. The greatness of the task of the Russian revolution corresponds to the magnitude which it caused in the life of the state. Reorganization in the face of the enemy of the entire governmental system could not be effected without serious disorders. Nevertheless, Russia, convinced there is no other means of safety, has continued in accord with the allies, common action on the front.

DIFFICULT TASK.

Fully conscious of the difficulties of the task, Russia has taken up the burden of conducting active military operations during reconstruction of the army and the government. The offensive of our armies, which was necessitated by a strategic situation, encountered insurmountable obstacles on both fronts and in the interior of the country. The criminal propaganda of irresponsible elements was used by enemy agents and provoked a revolution in Petrograd. At the same time the city council passed an ordinance abolishing the office of harbor manager, which was a position of honor and not of profit. The harbor manager's office was abolished and the duties of the office were assigned to the city engineer.

TO RESUME FIGHT.

In the presence of an enemy menace, the country and the army will continue with renewed courage the great work of restoration as well as the preparation on the threshold of the fourth year of the war for the coming campaign. We firmly believe that Russian citizens will combine all efforts to fulfill the sacred task of defending the beloved country and that the entire people will take part in a flame of faith in the triumph of liberty, will direct the whole invincible force of revolution against the enemy who threatens the country.

BRUSILOFF REPLACED AS COMMANDER

LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PETROGRAD, Aug. 2.—General Brusiloff today resigned as commander-in-chief of the Russian army.

General Korniloff, who directed the recent Russian offensive below Lemberg, was named his successor.

General A. A. Brusiloff was a "hold-over" in the Russian army from the old monarchical days. He was first heard of as the Russian army commander in Galicia in 1914, when he occupied Halicz, September 2. In April, 1916, he succeeded General Korniloff as commander of the southern eastern armies and as such directed the Russian drive on this front a few months later.

ARMIES REFORMED

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Russia appeared today to have re-formed some of her shattered armies in local places at least three places the Austro-German advance has seemingly been stopped abruptly. At other points the Russian armies actually assumed the offensive.

From a disorganized mob, torn with sedition and treason, through the work of German spies, Premier Kerensky has apparently drawn out the loyal elements and imbued them with a new spirit of patriotism.

The German drive today apparently centered on the frontier river of Zboroz, over a front of nearly forty miles. Crossing of the waterway has been effected at half a dozen places. A "partial offensive" by the Russians gained them ground.

Second Loan To Be Floated In November

A new feature in the second bond selling campaign will be the women's liberty loan committee. It has named State chairmen and opened offices in the Treasury building here.

Several million new posters and 5,000,000 liberty loan buttons have been contracted for.

COUNCIL OF WAR CHIEFS IS CALLED BY KAISER

Allied Drive in Flanders May Be Cause of Summons for Leaders to Meet in Belgium

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 2.—Emperor William has called a war council at the high military and naval leaders in Germany to meet at Brussels, Belgium, today.

In addition to the Kaiser, Field Marshal Hindenburg, Quartermaster General Ludendorff, the Crown Prince and numerous other military leaders will attend.

DISSATISFACTION OVER CROWN PRINCE'S FAILURE

British Forces in the West Launch Big Counter Attack; German Losses Very Heavy

Despatches here emphasized the importance of the conference in indicating that every German military leader of any importance would be present.

The Kaiser has just returned from the Galician front, where he witnessed the advance of the Teutonic armies in that section.

German despatches recently have hinted at considerable dissatisfaction with lack of progress in the Crown Prince's drive against the French, along the Chemin des Dames.

PEOPLE TO CONSIDER QUESTION OF PEACE

Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, yesterday told the Munich Weekly Nachrichten that the Prussian parliamentary question, which was a leading subject of discussion in the recent political crisis, will receive solution as soon as the Emperor returns from the front.

BERLIN (via Copenhagen), Aug. 2.—Emperor William, according to an official statement today telegraphed to Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, has congratulated the great success of the German Fourth Army July 31 "whereby the vehement Anglo-French attack intended to conquer the coast of Flanders failed."

GERMANY FEARS ANOTHER YEAR OF WAR

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The text of an order from the Kaiser to his people on the occasion of the third anniversary of the war is taken here as a renewed bid for peace.

Opinion is that Germany looks forward with the gravest fears to another year of war and making good the promise of the Kaiser's order in attempting to secure a favorable peace. The proclamation follows:

"To the German People: Three years of hard fighting are behind us. With grief and sorrow we look back on the past, but with confidence all our workers and with a heavy heart those who are languishing in captivity, but above all our thoughts stand resolute in the determination to enter into the war against us but that does not frighten us."

"The enemy is stretching out his hands toward German territory, but he shall never have it. New actions continue to enter into the war against us but that does not frighten us."

"We must still continue to fight and to furnish arms for it. But our people may rest assured that German blood and German soul are not being wasted in vain. Our ultimate goal is the triumph of our arms, but in defense of a strong free empire in which our children may live in security."

"Let all our actions and all our thoughts be devoted to the fight. Let this be our solemn promise of this day, August 1, 1917."

"WILLIAM, I. R."

PRaises "GLORY" OF GERMAN DEEDS

"They received disdainfully ear words of protest that did not mean that Germany could fight. Throughout the world they have slandered the German name, but they cannot extinguish the glory of German deeds. Thus we stand erect at the close of this war, unmoved, victorious and intrepid."

"We must still continue to fight and to furnish arms for it. But our people may rest assured that German blood and German soul are not being wasted in vain. Our ultimate goal is the triumph of our arms, but in defense of a strong free empire in which our children may live in security."

He has a brother, Paul Geddes Pennoyer, who was recently married to Miss Frances Morgan.

QUARRELS WITH BRIDE, ENDS LIFE

WARM SPRINGS, Aug. 2.—Declared to have been dependent on the result of a quarrel which he had with his bride, several days ago, Antonio Peters, a farmer, employed on the St. Clair Brothers' ranch, near here, committed suicide yesterday by swallowing poison. Peters was forty years of age, a player with a family of five, who died before medical aid could be obtained. Deputy Coroner Sorenson of Hayward took the remains to Livermore, where an inquest will be held. Peters is said to have been married twice before. He has three children by the previous marriage.

Several days ago the farmer had a quarrel with his bride. The latter left and has not been seen since. Peters' death, according to reports, began to drink heavily and yesterday procured the poison. Efforts are being made to find his widow.

successfully raided the enemy's position and secured prisoners. AMERICANS PLAY PART IN FLANDERS FIGHT

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Aug. 2.—America played an important part in the battle of Flanders. A number of American "surge" teams worked side by side with their British allies in caring for the wounded.

"The situation is virtually unchanged."

This sums up the day's news from the wide zone along from which the British and French yesterday hurled Prussian's force, back to the supporting defenses at a depth varying between one and three miles. Artillery activities continued with great intensity, the British pouring a steady stream of high explosive shells into positions which the Germans now held, but there was comparatively little infantry fighting.

Due to the complete preparation made for yesterday's assault, the British casualties have not been excessive, but the condition of the battlefield and statements by prisoners indicate that the German losses were exceedingly heavy. The British medical corps has again evinced a most complete organization. At 8 o'clock last night all British wounded had been collected and brought back to emergency stations. More than 4000 prisoners, with some sixty officers, were taken by the British in the Ypres salient alone.

Prussian Bavarians and Saxons all have given of their number to swell the total of prisoners. No more dejected appearing men have been seen in British prison stations since the beginning of the war.

The allies today were busy consolidating the positions they captured yesterday. Further back, where the attacks had been looked for, but outside of a few local attempts to regain positions these did not materialize.

This was perhaps due partly to the heavy rain which continued without cessation since last night, filling shell holes with water and turning the ground into a deep mud, over which it is difficult to fight.

The German guns, however, many of which had been withdrawn to positions further back where the rain began, have been carrying on a steady bombardment, especially against the territory captured by the allies on the northern side of the Ypres salient, but their firing has been more or less erratic because of the rain, which blocked the work of the observation officers. As usual the Germans are employing great quantities of gas shells.

BAD WEATHER HOLDS ALLIES BACK

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Continued bad weather in Belgium with but scant fighting was reported in today's official statement.

On other fronts, however, raiding and intense artillery duels were reported.

"From Brays-en-Laonnois to Craonne (along the Chemin des Dames) artillery fire was very active," the war office said. "At Allentent we carried out a successful raid, taking prisoners."

"Southeast of Rheims, the enemy twice was unsuccessful in attempted raids."

"On the left bank of the Meuse, artillery fire was violent. In Avo-court wood in the evening the Germans renewed their attacks without success. Raids in the Verdun region were completely broken down."

RUMANIAN TROOPS ROUT GERMAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Rumanian troops have made a twelve-mile break along the thirty-mile German front in Rumania, according to cables received today at the Russian embassy.

The Rumanians captured 100 cannon, 100 machine guns and 4000 German prisoners after three days' hard fighting.

"The Germans are in complete disorder and are fleeing in panic," the cable states.

BERLIN (via London), Aug. 2.—The German battle line in Flanders has been moved forward as a result of successful counter-attacks army headquarters announced today. The hostile attacking forces effected no gains, and suffered heavy losses in the face of the unweakened German defensive it is declared.

Russia No Aid to Allied Forces

LONDON, Aug. 2.—"Looking from the broadest aspect at the events of the past fortnight in Russia," said General F. P. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, in his weekly talk today to the Associated Press. "It will necessarily mean a prolongation of the war. We cannot longer count on any great assistance from Russia. This means a greater burden on the other entente allies, and for the United States it means that she must come into the field as soon as possible and with the greatest possible force."

SUES FOR INJURY

H. Gerard real estate broker, who was thrown through a plate glass window at Fifteenth and Broadway June 28, when he was hit by an automobile driven by S. Yanaguchi, filed suit for $1200 damages against Yanaguchi in the superior court today. Gerard claims $1000 for personal injuries and $2000 for loss of wages while he was confined to his home with a fractured leg and ankle.

SCOTT IS FREED BY JURY'S VERDICT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Dismissing the action of the jury which acquitted his brother, J. J. Scott, former collector of internal revenue, of a similar charge, the jury which has been sitting on the trial of Andrew Clyde Scott, deposed deputy collector of internal revenue, has acquitted him of a charge of embezzling $500 in government funds.

Scott was brought to trial after an indictment containing eleven counts had been found against him. The defendant was suspended from his official duties on April 18 of this year. An order for his brother's suspension arrived from Washington the same day. On June 18, both were removed from office. Investigation conducted into the affairs of the internal revenue office by Chief Internal Revenue Agent C. E. Boulden resulted in evidence being presented to the Federal grand jury which resulted in the indictments.

"I felt confident that any fair-minded jury would discharge me," said Scott after the trial. "I was innocent and now I have proven it."

Proceedings looking to a recovery of the $15,000 which the Federal authorities claim is missing from the office of the internal revenue collector will be taken against the Ethna Casualty and Surety Company, which bonded the Scott brothers, according to an announcement made today. United States Attorney M. A. Thomas declared he would make a demand for the return of the money despite the fact that the Scotts have both been acquitted on charges of misappropriating it.

If the Ethna Casualty and Surety Company does not return the cash, Thomas declared he would bring suit. It was learned today that J. J. Scott, former collector of internal revenue, had been offered an official position with the Ethna Casualty and Surety Company. Attorney Timothy Healy was authority for the statement, but stated that Scott had not made up his mind whether or not he will accept it. It is understood here that there will be no further attempt to prosecute the Scott brothers, although Thomas would not admit this today. He had previously stated that he would ask additional indictments against J. J. Scott.

FIRST WHITE MAN IN PLACER CO. DIES

William Francis Black, mining engineer and first white child born in Placer county, died at his home, 1848 East Twenty-ninth street today, aged 62 years. Black was one of the earliest mining engineers in the county and was known to every Indian in the early post-office town of Yankee Jim's as the "white baby."

Black was the son of William H. Black of New York. He was the husband of Nellie Moody Black and the father of Delos M. Black and Adeline L. Black. Funeral services will be held from the Placer county funeral home, 1848 East Twenty-ninth street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Mountain View cemetery. Services will be under the auspices of Live Oak Lodge of Masons, No. 51.

ASSIGN COURTS

Sitting on banc this morning the six superior court judges of Alameda county created two extra departments of the superior court of Alameda county in compliance with the measure allowing two new judges in the county which was passed by the state legislature at its last session. The two new courts were designated department 7 and 8 respectively. Department No. 7 will be in what was formerly known as Extra Sessions No. 1 and department No. 8 in Extra Sessions No. 2.

The two new judges who will hold court in the newly created departments have not yet been named by the governor who under the law has until August 27 to make a final selection from approximately twenty candidates who are applicants.

"TRUSTY" ESCAPES

John Montgomery, who was serving a sentence of three months in the city prison on a minor charge, escaped last evening, and he is still at liberty with the entire police force keeping a close watch on him. Montgomery was acting as a "trusty" in the prison on the eleventh floor. He went on an errand to the garage on the main floor to get a small bottle of gasoline. While he was filling the bottle the elevator opened and a man came above and went up. Montgomery took advantage of it—situation and went out.

STATE LAW ON MAILING FISH VOID

That the state law forbidding the sending of game or fish through the mails is not worth the paper it is written on and was put through the legislature against the advice of Attorney General U. S. Webb is considered evident as the result of disclosures made today following the announcement of the postoffice authorities that they would accept such commodities in future. It is declared that the law is in direct conflict to a federal regulation and follows the rule that a statute of the United States takes precedent over one enacted by a state.

Postmaster Fay of San Francisco, announced yesterday that he had received authority from Washington to accept shipments of fish and game and that Postoffice Inspector Morse was going to notify every postmaster in the state that in future these commodities would be mailable. The question arose as to whether a citizen presenting a package of game might not be arrested by the local authorities for a violation of the law, even though Uncle Sam was ready to receive the shipment. It is not believed that this will follow as it was learned on good authority that at the time the law was in committee, Attorney General Webb was consulted and informed the author of the bill that it was not worth the paper it was written on. He was told at that time that the matter had been taken up with Washington and that a federal official said that California might go ahead and legislate.

When postmaster Fay, however, had convinced himself of the unconstitutionality of the law, following protests from remote communities where there was a postoffice, but no express office, he took the matter up with Washington himself and as a result ordered that fish and game be accepted via parcel post.

Should any municipal officer arrest the sender of such a package, Fay declared that Uncle Sam would defend him in the test case which would then be taken to the Supreme Court of California.

Postmaster Charles W. Fay held a conference this morning with Carl Westerfeld, president of the Fish and Game Commission, in connection with the order issued by the postoffice authorities permitting the shipment of wild game and fish through the mails.

Millionaire Charged With Failing to Aid Daughter

MRS. CAMILLIA GILLINGHAM, who desires to have her former husband arrested and forced to pay alimony.

Mrs. Gillingham Seeks to Have Former Spouse Extradited and Brought Here

TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—With the plea that her former husband, William B. Gillingham, legatee of the Provident Life and Trust Co. and reputed millionaire, had failed to support his little daughter, Camilla Gillingham, of this city, applied today to the Alameda county courts for a modification of her divorce decree that would permit her to institute extradition proceedings against him if he can be found.

The suit reopens a sensational case in this county that involved an alienation of affections contest which ended when Gillingham offered public apology to his wife and dropped the suit he had instituted against William B. Schooler, a prominent Oakland and San Francisco attorney.

In her papers filed today by her counsel, Jesse D. Burt, Mrs. Gillingham asks $1200 immediate payment from her former husband and $700 a year support for their child, Patricia Eloise, ten years of age. She claims that the former court judgment of $200 a month maintenance of the girl and a boy, who is recently deceased, has been either ignored monthly by Gillingham or met only in part, and that his failure to comply with the court's orders has left herself and child almost destitute. The suit will be heard by Judge Everett J. Brown, who made the original maintenance judgment.

RECOVERS DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Gillingham declared today that she had but recently succeeded in securing the return to her of the little girl after Gillingham had had the child in San Francisco and had taken her east. Inquiries Mrs. Gillingham declares, she continued for months, ended in her locating the child in an eastern convent and the return to her of the child.

Her latest effort, Mrs. Gillingham said, to trace him had been made through friends of a Miss Tillie Morris, formerly employed by the Gillinghams, who, she was informed, had been made Gillingham in the east and become his bride. Mrs. Gillingham declares she has been unable to confirm the report of their wedding. Gillingham's eastern legal representative is William Deal, with offices in San Francisco. The latest location she has been able to establish for him is in Maine, where she brings suit in Maine.

The Gillinghams formerly lived in this city and for a time in Hayward and in San Francisco. Gillingham has held extensive mining and agricultural properties on this coast. The present respondent was his third wife.

WITHDRAWS CHARGE.

Some time before their final separation Gillingham instituted suit for $100,000 against William B. Schooler for alienation of affections. Schooler recently was in the public eye as an attorney in the Rev. Slaughter-Lambert case at Chico. Gillingham abandoned the suit before it came to trial and followed this action with the submission to the newspapers of a public statement in which he fully absolved his wife of any culpability.

A few months later Mrs. Gillingham secured a divorce decree on the grounds of cruelty in the courts of this county. The custody of her two children was awarded to her as well as $200 a month for their maintenance. For a year or more, she declares, he took no interest in their welfare and kept her whereabouts a secret from her, sending her a portion of the money through an attorney.

STINGY BANDIT ROBS CONDUCTOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—A robber who successfully held up the conductor of a suburban car in the city limits of San Mateo at midnight was anxious to make a cleanup, but was unwilling to charge off more than a fraction of his loot to the expense of the car. The car was still sprinkled with passengers and the robber decided that a 5-cent fare was sufficient for him to turn into the coffers of the company. He evidently forgot that he would get it all back if he successfully persuaded Conductor P. J. Thompson to hand over his night's receipts.

Accordingly he paid only a 5-cent fare to Holy Cross cemetery, telling the conductor that he wanted to go to South San Francisco. Arriving at the junction the car was still sprinkled with passengers and the robber decided that the moment was not opportune for the holdup. Then he paid the balance of the fare to San Mateo. When the last passengers, a man and a woman, left at Bellevue avenue he walked forward as though to alight with them, but instead remained on the platform. As the car started up he held a revolver at Thompson's head and took $38.70. Then he rang the bell and escaped at the next corner.

STRENGTH FINDS COIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Detective Peter Hughes, one of the few financiers in the police department, has the reputation of being able to detect the mere presence of jangling coin by the atmospheric conditions prevailing. This sixth sense in money matters enabled him this morning to recover $240 in gold, the savings of Rafael Barber, a Mexican who came here recently on his vacation from the southern republic. Barber and his roommate returned to their apartment at the Grand Union Hotel early this morning to discover the money gone. Hughes investigated and found the coin in the room of the chambermaid, Frances Gaine, who admitted that she had taken it but could not explain why. She was booked for grand larceny.

AUTOS CRASH; MANY INJURED IN COLLISION Y.W.C.A. HOME

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—One man was injured probably fatally, three other persons were painfully injured and five others were badly bruised in an automobile accident at Death Curve, opposite Cypress Lawn Cemetery on the boulevard, this forenoon. Among those hurt were:

T. J. Wildman of Akron, Ohio, scalp laid open, skull probably fractured, unconscious, condition very serious.

Mrs. C. V. Twynham, New York, severe bruises of the body, cuts of the face, suffering from shock.

Alfred Cohen, attorney at law, Insurance Exchange building, San Francisco, lacerations and bruises.

Mrs. Alfred Cohen, suffering from shock, lacerations and contusions.

Mrs. H. J. Wildman, bruised and cut.

It is believed that several others were slightly hurt as a number of persons boarded a San Mateo car opposite the scene of the accident with hastily made bandages around hands and faces.

The two machines concerned in the accident were hurtling at a terrific rate of speed and it is reported that one of them, a seven-passenger touring car, was on the wrong side of the highway and had been crowding other automobiles in the dirt as it careened along at a mad pace.

At the curve it struck a roadster in which four persons were riding. The collision was in the nature of a side-sweep, but the cars were locked together and badly wrecked. Other machines stopped.

Immediately render aid and Wildman, his wife and Mrs. Twynham were conveyed to the South San Francisco Hospital. Alfred Cohen and his wife were hurried to the Red Cross Hospital at San Mateo.

It was learned that Wildman's condition was serious but that the others taken there, including Mrs. Wildman, Mrs. Twynham and the latter's husband, were all able to leave the hospital. Mrs. Wildman remained near her husband.

At the Red Cross Hospital it was stated that Cohen and his wife would be able to be taken to their homes in San Francisco this afternoon.

ARMY OFFICER TO FACE SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The filing of a separate maintenance suit by Mrs. Isabella Morrow Boniface, daughter of an old army family, against her husband, Major John J. Boniface, U. S. A., has brought to light a matrimonial divergence that, according to the wife, culminated in a physical attack at the Baldwin Hotel.

Mrs. Boniface, who is now in papers in the suit together with a restraining order preventing him from taking the couple's 11-year-old daughter out of the jurisdiction of the local courts, was served on Major Boniface just as he stepped on a train en route to Cheyenne, Wyo., where he has been ordered by the War Department.

The complaint alleges that marital dissensions have existed for the past five years. Custody of the child and $200 a month maintenance is asked in the suit. Major Boniface denies that he struck his wife, but admits that he quarreled when he took exception to his daughter's punishment at the hands of the mother. In an affidavit filed before his departure the army man agrees to pay $125 a month toward his wife's support, but declares he cannot pay the amount asked.

Major Boniface is in command of a troop in the Twenty-fifth Cavalry and has been stationed at Honolulu. His wife is the daughter of the late Colonel Henry M. Morrow, president of Lieutenant-Colonel William M. Morrow, now stationed at the Presidio; Major Frank Morrow, now with the American troops at the front, and Colonel Henry M. Morrow, stationed at Manila.

SPEEDS WAR WORK

That the appeals made through newspapers by the National Security League that all persons urge their congressmen to speed up the war program is bearing fruit is indicated in a telegram received by the TRIBUNE from Congressman J. Arthur Elston. After referring to the published appeals of the League, Congressman Elston's message says: "I am already receiving letters in reference to this notice and in order to ease my already heavy mail permit me to say that so far as the House of Representatives is concerned all emergency legislation has been reasonably expedited. The Senate is more open to criticism along these lines. I know that every vote, act and word of mine has been for prompt action. In the recent action on the Hoover bill I voted with the so-called Republican insurgents to speed the bill to conference and final passage, believing as I do that time is the essence in the present crisis."

SNATCHES PURSE

After being escorted home by a young man whom she knew as "Joe," Miss Frances Halick, 18 years old, had her purse snatched as she stood on the doorstep and her companion fled from the scene. Miss Halick is employed at the home of A. W. Gorrill, 741 Lakeside avenue. The theft of the purse, which contained $1.85, was reported to the police and a search was made for "Joe." Miss Halick said that she will swear out a warrant for his arrest, but she does not know much concerning him, having met him recently in the country.

INFIRMARY SHORT

For the first time in years there is no surplus in the Alameda county infirmary fund, and instead of cash payments to employees at the institution warrants will be issued, according to County Treasurer M. J. Kelly. The warrants will be redeemed in November, when funds will be available. The high cost of food supplies during the past year is the cause of the deficit.

STRIKE IS ENDED

LEADVILLE, Colo., August 2.—The strike of metal miners in the Leadville district, which began ten days ago, was called off at 12:30 this morning at a mass meeting of the striking miners, both union and non-union. The men voted to accept the offer of the operators of a wage increase of approximately 50 cents a day. The strikers had asked for an increase of $1 a day.

DISTRICT'S CONDITION SHOWN GOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—General business conditions in the twelfth federal reserve district are stated to be in satisfactory condition, according to the official report made public today. Production of foodstuffs in practically all lines show substantial increases including the salmon pack, wheat, apples and the California prune crop. Stimulated by the ship building program, lumber production is said to be at its maximum. Labor shortage is reported as becoming acute. Following is the report in detail:

About one-third of the deposits in the national banks of Oregon, Utah, now aggregating approximately $9,000,000 are from banks in the tributary territory, evidencing a growing importance as a banking center, because of which the Federal Reserve board has designated Oregon as a reserve city. The only effect of this is to increase the amount of the required deposit with the Federal Reserve bank from 7 per cent to 10 per cent of demand deposits. This increases the number of reserve cities in this district from 7 to 8.

Between May 1, 1917, and June 30, 1917, the total deposits in the national banks of these eight cities declined $14,800,000, showing a decrease of $3,200,000 in Los Angeles, $9,400,000 in San Francisco, $200,000 in Portland, $1,100,000 in Spokane, $500,000 in Ogdun and $900,000 in Seattle. Decreases were shown by the banks in Salt Lake City and Tacoma. This shows the effect of checking for investment in Liberty bonds and for all other purposes. Excluding deposits from other banks, however, a slight increase is shown by the banks in San Francisco and Los Angeles alone showing a decrease slightly more than $1,000,000 in each city. Between the statements of March 8 and June 30, the state banks of California show an increase in deposits of $65,000.

Bank clearings of 19 principal cities of this district during the first six months of 1917, increased 38 per cent over the corresponding period last year. Salt Lake City led with $5 per cent, followed by Seattle with 45 per cent and San Francisco with 45 per cent.

The salmon pack is expected to be heavy as this is the "hockey" year, it being the experience that the pack varies very much from year to year. The new pack will go upon the market early next month.

Shipbuilding is inconceivably active and continuing to extend for both wood and steel ships. This is at the present rate of expansion this industry will soon assume an importance equal to that of the entire agricultural production west of the Rocky Mountains.

Lumber production is apparently at maximum stimulated by increased construction of wooden ships and army cantonments.

Labor shortage is becoming serious. Considerable trouble in Arizona mines has been caused by W. W. who whom several hundred have been deported. They have also made ominous threats in the northwest. In some places United States troops have been called out to maintain order.

ANTI-WAR MAN JAILED.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—For the alleged interference with recruiting at one of the open-air stations of the United States Army, this morning, Edward William Olson, a sailor, was sent to the county jail for thirty days by Police Judge John J. Sullivan this morning. According to the evidence presented in court, Olson was seeking to prevent young men from joining Uncle Sam's military forces.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just pure and entirely natural coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get multifid coconut oil at any drug store, and it is cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growth
(Beauty Culture)
It is no longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubble growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

Progressives Given First Judgeship by Governor

D. A. Cashin of Fresno Appointed by Stephens to Superior Court
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 2.—D. A. Cashin, a Fresno attorney, was appointed today by Governor Stephens as judge of Department 3 of the superior court of Fresno county. The department was created by the last legislature and the term is for one year, or until the next election.

FRESNO, Aug. 2.—D. A. Cashin, formerly a Republican, became affiliated with the Progressive party and is now known as one of Fresno county's leading Progressives. He has a high reputation as a lawyer and frequently has acted as judge under the law permitting an attorney to sit in judgment with the agreement of both parties in litigation. He has been a member of the Fresno county bar since 1905.

Cashin is 44 years old and is married. He was born in Scranton, Pa., came to California twenty years ago and has passed most of his time in law practice in Fresno.

This appointment is the first Governor Stephens has made under the acts passed by the recent legislature authorizing the creation of five new superior judgeships—one in Fresno county, two in Alameda and two in Los Angeles.

AUTO AND TRAIN CRASH; 3 HURT

RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—In a crash with the Southern Pacific "Owl" at the Barrett avenue crossing this morning an automobile driven by A. C. Coster, employed in the acid department at the Standard Oil Company, was badly wrecked and the three occupants of the car barely escaped with their lives. With Coster were his wife and seven-year-old son. The boy received a laceration of the scalp and severe bruise about the head while the parents escaped with minor bruises and cuts. They were taken to the Abbott Emergency Hospital and afterwards to the Crocker Hospital.

The accident occurred when Coster was on his way to work. Seeing a train coming north out of Richmond station, Coster stopped at the crossing but unluckily did not back completely off the tracks at the crossing. While waiting for the train to pass another came, and while the car was striding the track for a hundred yards, fortunately for the occupants of the car they were taken from the car wheels by the force of the collision. The Costers live in East Richmond Heights. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock.

CHILD PLEADS FOR AT LEAST ONE BROTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—War has come seriously into the life of Little Concilia Presto of San Jose. One of her brothers, Stanley, has enlisted and is with the engineering corps at Vancouver barracks.

"If you can't exempt two, can't you just save one?" the child has written to Superior Judge Graham, a member of an exemption board. Her mother is ill of heart trouble and the letter continues:

"As a last hope of saving my mother's life I am writing to you. If you can't exempt two, can't you just save one? If more are taken it will kill mother. Sister and I will be left alone."

Judge Graham said he would have the letter referred to the proper authorities.

RECALL PLANNED

WEAVERVILLE, Cal., Aug. 2.—A recall election to determine whether District Attorney John S. Reid, of Trinity county, is to retain his office was set for September 5 by County Supervisors.

Reid was charged in a recall petition with gross incompetence in office by three of the other four attorneys in the county. Reid asserted spite had been laid against him and that circulators of the petition seek his position. He declared the petitioner at the court-house was discharged after a service of twenty years because he refused to sign the recall petition.

FAIR SEEKER OF SOULS COME HOME

BERKELEY, Aug. 2.—Fresh from eastern successes Violet Stitt Wilson is on her way back to Berkeley from New York, accompanied by her husband, Irving Pichel, of Berkeley to after their arrival here three new dance dramas that the girl who left the University of California and her father's home to find her soul has written in New York, where she went soon after her marriage several months ago, she has been playing at the Broadway theater, made famous by the Washington Square players.

"The Dance Drama," which she is to produce here are "The Dancing Children," "The Roof-tree Flower," a dramatization of a Japanese legend, and "The Prophet of Jehovah," the third will require the assistance of between 300 and 350 people, the young writer plans. The production will be for the benefit of the Red Cross and the plays are particularly to emphasize beauty, simplicity, vitality and economy as their dominant themes.

Violet Wilson created a considerable stir here two years ago when she suddenly quit the University because she declared it was cramming and narrowing in its influence and quit, as well, the house of her father, J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley to after three weeks "quest for her soul," the former student returned to Berkeley and, with her brother, Gladstone Wilson, produced an impressive symbolic spectacle on the lawn of her home. Returning to Los Angeles she engaged in theatrical work there and was married to one of her associates, Irving Pichel.

Her husband is to make the properties assign the lighting and costumes, the local plays, while she will design and supervise the making of the costumes and originate the dances.

Since April Wilson has been co-director with Frederick Stanhope of New York in producing Percy MacKaye's great comedy, "The Millionaire," at the New York City. The play was produced for three weeks in the Harvard stadium before 10,000 people, and was seen by 50,000 people. The proceeds went to the Red Cross.

DEATH PENALTY CASES GROWING LESS IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 2.—Capital crimes which carry the death penalty are on the decrease in California or else jurors trying offenders are opposed to capital punishment and recommend life imprisonment.

This conclusion is drawn from the fact that only three men are occupying condemned cells in the state prisons—two at San Quentin and one at Folsom—and that only one execution has taken place so far this year. Joseph Witt was executed in February for murdering a man in Glenn county.

In previous years the condemned cells of the two state prisons have been well filled, ten or twelve men usually waiting to pay the extreme penalty.

Fred Miller, sentenced to death for a murder in Ventura, and Lon Hadley, convicted of murder in Los Angeles, both colored, are awaiting execution in San Quentin prison. Miller is to be hanged on August 17 and Hadley will be executed on September 7.

Joseph Schoon, who is occupying the condemned cell at Folsom pending his conviction for murder in Stockton. Execution has been stayed in his case through an appeal to the Supreme Court.

ADMITS SUCCESS OF DIPLOMACY OF THE ALLIES

ZURICH, Aug. 2.—The military critic of the Munchener Neueste Nachrichten regrets that British diplomacy has been more clever and successful than the German. He says it has been constantly making new allies and no there are 1,350,000,000 foes against Germany's 135,000,000 and declares that Great Britain's greatest gain in this respect is America.

"Economically, politically and financially an Anglo-Saxon world has now been created and threatens to rule the world unless we oppose a central union and Asiatic combination against it," he says. "The military importance of America is equally great. She requires only time to be come effective."

"LAND TORPEDO" IS NEW WEAPON TO AID ARMIES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—A land torpedo, shaped like a big baseball which travels 54 miles an hour and will wreck 100 yards of trench on each explosion, has been submitted to the War Department by Frank H. Trimble, Los Angeles inventor.

Over five feet in diameter at its widest point, the inner shell of the steel torpedo contains a 90-horsepower motor and pockets for a high explosive which, at timing device ignites at any distance between 100 and 1,000 yards. Each land torpedo, according to Trimble, will cost about $2200, or less than one-third the cost of each underwater torpedo.

400 DEATHS FROM HEAT, NO RELIEF

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The intense heat wave claimed scores more of victims in eastern cities today, though relief came to oppressed sufferers in the West and Middle West. Early this afternoon it was estimated that between 300 and 400 persons have died in the past forty-eight hours from the torrid spell.

In New York the temperature was slightly lower than yesterday, but the humidity was much higher, increasing the suffering. Between midnight and noon at least twenty-six persons died of the heat, bringing the total number of victims in the country's metropolises alone to more than 150. The local weather bureau hoped for some relief before tonight.

JUDGE WARNS WOMEN TO KEEP OFF WHITE WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Police Judge Timothy Fitzpatrick threatened to turn policemen this morning and personally arrest women of the underworld found in the heart of the theatrical district. He declared that San Francisco's great white way must be kept clean.

"If the police will not arrest women walking the streets in the theater section I will do so myself," said his honor, "and any women brought before me who are arrested there will get jail sentences and they will not be for 24 hours either."

A number of merchants on O'Farrell street between Powell and Stockton had complained of the activity of street walkers and Judge Fitzpatrick warned a half-dozen who appeared in court what his future action would be.

Taylor, chief instructor in command of the army signal corps aviation training field here, plunged 800 feet to his death today when he lost control of his Curtiss biplane. Sergeant Thomas H. Fell, a passenger, had a miraculous escape from death. Fell is in a hospital here with a broken jaw and possible internal injuries.

Captain Taylor was an expert flyer and had been in command of the students and chief instructor for about two months. He was married only two months ago.

Fickert alleges many signatures are forgeries.

BEAUTY OF SOUTH WEDS IN SECRET

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Los Angeles society was surprised with the announcement today that beautiful Grace Vajar, daughter of one of the oldest Spanish families of Southern California, had quietly married William M. Pitkin, St. Louis engineer, at the Santa Barbara mission July 11, after a brief courtship which began in Pomona several months ago. Mrs. Pitkin left today to join her husband who is at the officers' training camp at the Presidio in San Francisco. Their meeting in Pomona was revealed to be a case of love at first sight. They had planned to announce their engagement, but when Pitkin, on July 10, received notification to report at the Presidio, their plans were upset. The next day they motored to the Santa Barbara mission and were married by Father Rossi, a lifelong friend of the bride.

Mrs. Pitkin is the daughter of Francisco Vajar, of Pomona, and her grandfather was given the original grant of 15,000 acres on which the town of Pomona now stands. Pitkin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Pitkin of St. Louis.

MYSTERY IN STRIKE AT AERO PLANT

With officials of the Hall-Scott Motor Company declaring that the walk-out of their employees last Tuesday came at an opportune moment, in that it permitted of contemplated action in the West Berkeley plant, officials of the Machine and Machine-Helpers' Union, over a member of which the whole trouble is said to have arisen, declare that certain underlying matters involved will be threshed out at a meeting of their organizations tonight.

Considerable mystery seems to fog the whole affair. Intimations that German or pro-German plots might be back of the peremptory quitting of 180 employees of the plant are given by representatives of the company. Hint of bigger issues than just a simple strike is also contained in statements made by J. G. Taylor, union business agent, who declared that no discussion would be made public as to the reasons underlying the strike until tomorrow, to avoid prejudicing either side in the controversy.

U. S. MAY PROBE CASE.

In the background lies the United States government, ready at a moment's notice to throw the great weight of its secret service organization into the situation, equipped with all the authority military regulation permits. It is understood that government agents are already at work running down the contributory causes which led to the closing down of the plant while in the middle of important government aviation contracts. Just what federal action will follow these investigations is admitted by both sides to be a matter of speculation.

According to Leland S. Scott, one of the heads of the Hall-Scott plant, the cause of the walkout is a mystery. He brands the declaration of some of the men that it resulted from dissensions over the employment of a machinist's helper as ridiculous.

"Heads of the labor unions have assured me that the strike was called without their sanction," he said today. "In the meantime, we are spreading out and extending our plant along lines previously planned out. When this is done we will retire. And the next time, believe me, we will know with whom we are doing business."

Scott declared that the plant would probably reopen some time next week.

MRS. FRITZ HENSHAW, who is planning a pretty dinner for next week in honor of Miss Phyllis Lovell and Miss Helen Downey, bride-elect of the early fall.

War and its stern necessities which separate lovers, leaving the girl at home, and sending the man to the farthest places of the world, where Uncle Sam's interests are, has hastened the betrothal announcement of Miss Phyllis Lovell and Miss Helen Downey. Few engagements of the summer have held so much of interest to the university set as this news, which promises a wedding not before two years or more, unless plans are materially altered. For Shippey, having received his first lieutenant's commission, is en route to Guam, where in all probability he will be stationed for the coming two years. There has been no more popular girl on the campus of the University of California than Miss Smith, who is entering her junior year. She is unusually pretty and has the intelligence which has given her a high standing in the difficult course which she has elected. In between whiles she has prepared herself for a business career, and during the mid-season has been a student in the summer session. Miss Smith decided that she would join the fast-growing ranks of the women attorneys, and is making a record for herself as a student of Blackstone. And it would seem that perhaps not even marriage would change her plans, for her fiancé is himself a graduate of the law college in the University of California, and would have returned for his doctor's degree had not the war been declared, and she has decided to complete her work during his absence. Shippey volunteered in the marine corps when war was first declared to enter into the government's service. The news of the betrothal is being told most informally to the closer friends of the Smith and Shippey families.

It is today which was named by Lady Winifred Inge for her marriage with Richard Pennoyer, formerly of this city and of Berkeley. The wiles have not yet brought the news of the ceremony, which was planned as a very simply appointed affair in London. Pennoyer is the son of Mrs. A. A. Pennoyer, is second secretary of the American embassy in London. His bride is the widow of one of the war's earliest heroes, Vincent Inge, a lieutenant in the Royal Horse Guards, who was killed in France. He was the only son of the Earl of Shrewsbury. She is a sister of Charles Henry Alexander, the Marquis of Anglesey. Pennoyer is a graduate of the University of California and later attended Oxford. For five years he has been connected with diplomatic circles abroad, representing this government in Uruguay, Panama, Montevideo, Paris and London.

The little Episcopal church in Rose is to be the scene of the interesting ceremony on the afternoon of Wednesday, August 15, which will make Miss Maryway Nichols, daughter of Bishop William Ford Nichols and Mrs. Nichols, the bride of Edward H. Clark Jr. Because of the recent address which came to the Nichols family in the death of one of the daughters of the home and in observance of the serious times, the wedding will be utterly devoid of all elaborateness of detail. Only the members of the families with a few close friends will be present at the simple reading of the service by the bride's distinguished father. Mrs. Charles Mills will be her sister's matron of honor, with Miss Evelyn Landale and Miss Helen Clark as bridesmaids. Awaiting the bride's orders from Uncle Sam, the young couple will take apartments at the Fairmont.

With two brides-elect—Miss Phyllis Lovell and Miss Helen Downey—as her guests of honor, Mrs. Fritz Henshaw is planning a charming little dinner for next week, asking an intimate coterie to share her hospitality. The early fall days are setting up an interesting number of weddings among the closer friends of Mrs. Henshaw, who is arranging to give a series of informal affairs at her attractive home in East Oakland in honor of the young couple. The first, Miss Lovell and Miss Downey are to be complimented. Miss Lovell had named her marriage with Roger Paul Haynes for Saturday, September 1, but was times making many changes. The wedding will be held at the Fairmont on the calendar for a fortnight or so. However, as Miss Lovell has already assembled a lovely trousseau, and all is in readiness for her marriage, the date of the wedding is being changed to the day which will celebrate the extremely old service will make little difference. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovell of Edmont, who graduated from the Ramsey school.

Miss Downey is the fiancée of Harry Sumner Houghton, and will probably add her name to the long list of September brides. Her betrothal was announced during the mid-summer, and with the return of the younger set to town there will be quite a series of delightful informal affairs in honor of her coming marriage. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Downey, an old family in the East Oakland district. Houghton is the son of Mr. A. D. Houghton, of Santa Cruz, but formerly of Atlanta, Ga. He is a mechanical engineer.

A beautifully appointed luncheon assembled an interesting coterie of friends at "Roselawn," the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butters, in Claremont, on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Butters made the occasion a Sunday affair most informal, bringing together in exceedingly happy groups many of the distinguished men and women who happen to be passing on the Pacific coast. "Roselawn," with its lovely gardens and conservatories, is one of the show places in the Claremont district.

There is being extended a charming welcome to Mrs. Paul Gardner, who with her little son, has come up from her home in Los Angeles to remain during the several weeks of her husband's absence in the East. She is the house guest of her mother and father, Dr. Charles L. Tisdale, at their home in Alameda. As Mrs. Tisdale, Mrs. Gardner was unusually popular, and her occasional returns to the bay cities is the inspiration for a round of pleasant affairs which bring together her old friends in congenial groups.

The congenial little group of friends who started out in the mid-July for a motor ride through the northern part of the State with a few days' sojourn in the Yosemite have returned home enthusiastic over the beauties of the road and the joy of the late summer at Tahoe and in the valley. The party numbered Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Barnhart, Mrs. Louise Clarence L. Johnston, Mrs. and Mrs. Gage and Ralph Langworthy. Many interesting experiences attended the journey, which, however, was not without mishap in the three high-power motors.

After a fortnight's sojourn at Del Monte, Mrs. Robert Swaine, who is her Alameda residence for the season, Mrs. Swaine, joined Mrs. Louis James and Mrs. Charles Okell at the popular resort, the two of close friends enjoying a most delightful outing.

Mrs. J. C. Kennahan, who is visiting in Berkeley from her home in Chicago, was the motif today for a bridge tea, which assembled a number of the smart set at the residence of Mrs. Hiram B. Cook, Mrs. Cooky and Mrs. H. J. Knight offering their hospitality. An hour about the bridge tables was followed by a prettily served tea.

Miss Mildred Manuel, whose October wedding with Frank Rutherford will take her to the Hawaiian Islands to reside; Miss Margaret Neek and Miss Margaret Boveraux, brides-elect of the later year, with a trio of charming brides, Mrs. Allan Morrow, Mrs. Niles Miller and Mrs. Mildred Bury—are lending the inspiration to the tea which is planned for the afternoon of Saturday, August 15, by Miss Sarah Yeatman and Miss Irene Venable. A half hundred intimate friends of the double quartet of popular girls are being included in the invitation for the interesting hour.

Miss Adelaide Scott and Miss Helen Lawton will be honored guests at the pretty affair at which Mrs. Charles Wae Snook and Mrs. Arthur Lee Cunningham will share the duties of hostess on Tuesday afternoon of the coming week. A congenial group of the younger set is asked to enjoy an informal hour with sewing bags, after which tea will be served. Miss Scott later in the year will become the bride of Frank Rother. Miss Lawton is the fiancée of E. Edward Martin Jr., of Wooming.

CO-WORKERS WED.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 2.—Henry Joy Sowerby and Miss Emily Chynoweth, both on the editorial staff of the San Jose Mercury, were married last night and are on their way to Yosemite, where they will spend their honeymoon.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW UNITS

Ground breaking started today for the second, third and fourth units of the Marchant Calculator Company's plant at Emeryville. The completion of these units will make the plant the largest manufacturing concern of American made multiplying and dividing machines in the United States.

The new units will represent an investment of $70,000 when completed of which $40,000 is for modern, semi-glass factory buildings of the latest design and $30,000 for machinery. The structures will occupy nearly two acres of floor space, the new units adding 17,000 square feet to the original unit.

The payroll will be trebled by the addition of the new units.

PIGEONS ARE GUESTS WHEN CHICKENS FEED

ALAMEDA, Aug. 2.—Mrs. R. Johnson of 305 Buena Vista avenue made the novel complaint to the police today that marauding pigeons, belonging to neighbors, fly into her chicken yard at meal times and eat some of the feed bought at war-time prices for her poultry.

She wants the pigeons restrained from their frequent raids. Officer George Lee of Headquarters will probably be sent to the first line trenches immediately for his casual remark that the marauding birds were undoubtedly carrier pigeons for they carried away the chicken feed.

The concern already employs 125 men working in day and night shifts and is 50 machines a day, according to the heads of the company, behind its orders. Work on the new units is to be pushed to completion so that contracts already obtained may be filled before the end of the year.

"Please fill the enclosed prescription and send it to me at once. I presume I should have it filled by the druggist in the town where I am temporarily stopping but I feel so sure of your prescriptions that I have prevailed upon the doctor to permit me to send it to you even at the expense of two days' delay," writes one of our customers, apparently away upon her vacation trip.

More than likely the physician figured that the mental satisfaction the patient would get out of having her own way would do her more good than two days' delay of his prescription. Because it was a simple one that almost any drug store could supply.

Mental satisfaction, however, is an important adjunct to the physician's work and it must be satisfying to think that if you HAVE to take medicine, that you are getting the best, compounded exactly according to the prescription and of the finest ingredients obtainable.

We receive prescription orders from all over the U. S. and are said to do the largest prescription business West of Chicago.

OLD FASHION LIVER PILLS IN DEMAND

Compound Cathartic Pills Sold for Forty Years.

You'd be surprised to know how many old fashioned compound cathartic liver pills we sell.

In spite of all the new remedies and "recent scientific discoveries" the good old style liver pills still have staunch friends and supporters.

We have been steadily selling these pills for over forty years and when a remedy weathers the market for four decades it certainly must have merit.

Of course we carry all of the modern rationally advertised cathartics, but when it comes right down to figures, we doubt whether there is a modern remedy of this kind upon the market with the steady demand of these old fashioned pills.

KEEP ON KODAKING

Are you working your Kodak as steadily as you should? Remember with every passing day goes an opportunity lost for snap shots that 20 years from now will be priceless.

Your friends are passing, your children getting older. The way to defy time is to Kodak constantly.

TRUSSES AND ELASTIC GOODS

At Reasonable Prices—You Save Money Here.

"How is it that you charge so much less for trusses and elastic goods than other stores?" was a question asked by one of our new clerks recently.

He knew enough of these goods to appreciate the fact that our line was very superior grade and his question was quite natural.

The reason is because we do not force our department to make abnormal profits to equalize smaller profits in other departments.

We mark all trusses, rubber goods, etc., at the same low prices that we mark all other merchandise. We have heard of stores where trusses costing a dozen were sold for $20 each. We believe that is enough, on the average.

Our rubber goods are the five-strand pure silk quality on quarter stretched rubber, which gives uniform tension and long wear. There are other grades of silk rubber, but this is the most satisfactory.

We carry all sizes of trusses and believe we can fit any one. We have expert fitters, both men and women, and would appreciate the opportunity of showing any one substantial savings in these goods.

EVERSHARP LEAD PENCILS

Always Sharp and Never Slip—A Practical Pencil.

These pencils are always sharp, because the lead is so thin. The lead seldom breaks because it is especially made for the purpose of not breaking.

The lead never slips, because the lead is controlled by a screw and plunger mechanism and not by the old clip arrangement.

They come in silver and gold plate with pocket clips so that they will not get lost easily.

Every physician, business man, attorney and every business woman should have one.

Why not make one friend a present of one tomorrow?

WATERMAN PENS

We are agents for the Waterman Fountain Pens, and as such keep an expert in our employ to doctor up any failing member of the Waterman Pen family that appears in this community.

Of course a sick Waterman is a rare article, but there are bound to be a few, and if you happen to doctor up one, you'll be a hero.

We also fix, trade, buy and sell other makes, but being Waterman agents, of course, we specialize on this particular pen.

The Lone Wolf

By Louis Joseph Vance.

Securing the door, he led her to a garden bench secluded and conventional shrubbery.

"If you wait here," he suggested, "it will be best. I'll be back as soon as possible, though I may be detained some time. Still, inasmuch as I'm about to break into this house, my motives, which are most commendable, may be misinterpreted, and I'd rather you waited here, with the street at hand. If you hear a noise like trouble you're only to unlatch the gate. But let's trust that my purely benevolent intentions toward the French republic will be misconstrued."

"I'll wait," she assured him bravely; "but won't you tell me—"

"You have indicated the mansion to be broken into in there to pay an early morning call and impart some interesting information to a person of considerable consequence—noisy less, in fact, than M. Ducroy."

"The present minister of war. We haven't as yet the pleasure of each other's acquaintance; still I think he won't be sorry to see me. In brief, I mean to make him a present of the Huysmans plans and bargain for safe conduct for us both from France."

Impulsively she offered her hand and, when he somewhat diffidently took it, she gave him a firm, compelling pressure with her own.

"Be careful," she whispered brokenly, her pale, sweet face upturned to his. "Oh, do be careful. I am afraid for you."

And for a moment the temptation to take her in his arms seemed stronger than any he had ever known.

"I'm reminding myself that a year's probation has elapsed, and that I am a free man, herent mumble, turned, and hastily disappeared in the direction of the house."

CHAPTER XVII.
Elation and Despair.

Established behind his splendid mahogany desk in his office, the minister of war, or moving majestically abroad attired in frock coat and shining top hat, or leading the dignity of his presence to some formal function of state in that beautiful uniform which appertained unto his office, M. Hector Ducroy cut an imposing figure.

Abed it was sadly otherwise. Lanyard switched on the bedside light, turned it so that it struck full upon the face of the sleeper, and as he sat down he saw the minister of war lay upon his back, his distinguished corpulence severely dislocated the chaste simplicity of the bedclothing. Athwart his shivering chest fat hands were peacefully folded in a gesture of repose. His face was red, a pale high-light shone upon the prominence of his bald pate, his mouth was open.

To the best of his unconscious ability he was giving a protracted imitation of a dead-fish; and he was really exhibiting a virtuoso—no readily distinguished individual howls, growls, yelps against an undertone made up of the blended voices of excited non-combatants. As suddenly as though some one weary of the entertainment had lifted the needle from that record, it was discontinued. The minister of war stirred uneasily in his sleep, muttered a naughty word, opened one eye, scowled, opened the other, and was gone.

"He blinked furiously, half-blinded but still able to make out the discomposing silhouette of a man seated just beyond the radius of glare—a quiet presence that moved not, but eyed him steadfastly; an apparition the more arresting because of its immobility."

Replied the face of the minister of war lost several shades of purple. He moistened his lips nervously with a thick, dry tongue, and convulsively he clutched the bedclothing high and tight about his neck, as though laboring under the atrocious impression that the sanctity of his person was threatened.

"What do you want, monsieur?" he stammered in a still, small voice which he would have been the last to acknowledge his own immobility.

"I desire to discuss a matter of business with monsieur," replied the intruder after a small pause. "If you will be good enough to calm yourself—"

"I am perfectly calm—"

But here the minister of war verified with one swift glance an earlier impression, to the effect that the trespasser was holding something that shone with a metallic luster, and his soul began to curl up round the edges.

"There are eighteen hundred francs in my pocketbook," he managed to articulate. "My watch is on the stand here. You will find the family plate in the dining-room safe, behind the buffet—the key is on my ring—and the jewels of my wife, in a small strong-box beneath the head of her bed. The combination—"

"Pardon; monsieur labors under a misapprehension," the housebreaker interposed dryly. "Had one desired these valuables, one would readily have possessed oneself of them without going to the trouble of disturbing the rest of monsieur. I have, however, already mentioned the nature of my errand."

"What?" demanded the minister of war. "What is that? But give me of your mercy one chance to explain!"

"I have not a word to say to you, and if I have done so without my knowledge, I assure you I am not to be blamed. I will be only too glad to make amends!"

"Still you do not listen!" the other intoned. "Come, M. Ducroy—calm yourself. I have not robbed you, because I have no wish to rob you. I have not harmed you, for I have no wish to harm you. Nor have I any wish other than to pay before you as representing government, a certain matter of state business."

There was silence while the minister of war permitted this exhortation to sink in. Then, apparently reassured, he sat up in bed and eyed his untimely visitor with a glare of intense discontent.

"What?" "What's that?" he demanded. "Business? What sort of business?"

"If you wish to lay under my consideration any matter of business, how is it you break into my home at dead of night and rouse me in this brutal fashion—"

"Here his voice faltered—"with a lethal weapon pointed at my neck?"

"Monsieur will admit he speaks under an error," returned the burglar. "I have yet to point this pistol at him. I should be very sorry to feel obliged to do so. I display it in front of him, and he knows that I may not forget himself and attempt to summon servants in his resentment of the—"

"I admit—unusual method of introducing oneself to his attention. When we understand each other there will be no need for such precautions, and then I shall put my pistol away, so that the sight of it may no longer annoy monsieur."

"It is true, I do not understand you," grumbled the minister of war. "Why, if your errand be peaceful—break, into my house?"

"Because it was urgently necessary to see monsieur instantly. Monsieur will reflect upon the reception one would receive did one ring the front door-bell and demand to see M. Ducroy at three o'clock in the morning."

"Well—" M. Ducroy conceded dubiously. Then, on reflection, he iterated the monosyllabic testily. "Well! What is it you want, then?"

"I can best explain by asking monsieur to examine—what I have to show him."

With this Lanyard dropped the pistol into his coat-pocket, from another produced a gold cigarette-case, and from the store of this last selected a single cigarette with meticulous care.

Regarding the minister of war in a mystifying manner, he began to roll the cigarette briskly between his palms. A small shower of tobacco sifted to the floor; the rice-paper cracked and came away; and with the hand and a gesture of the professional conjuror, Lanyard exhibited a small cylinder of stiff paper between his thumb and index-finger.

Goggling respectfully, M. Ducroy spluttered.

"What is that?"

"This—this is—"

"What is this?" Ducroy persisted stupidly. "What—what—"

"If monsieur will be good enough to unroll the papers and examine them with the aid of this glass—"

With a wondering grunt M. Ducroy complied, and smoking several small sheets of photographer's printing-out paper, to which extraordinary complicated and minute designs had been transferred—strongly resembling laborious efforts to conventionalize a spider's web. But no sooner had M. Ducroy focused upon them the magnifying-glass than he started violently, uttered an excited exclamation, and subjected the papers to an examination both prolonged and exacting.

"Monsieur, no doubt now satisfied?" Lanyard inquired, when his patience would endure no longer.

"These are genuine!" the minister of war demanded sharply, without looking up.

"Monsieur can hardly discern details made upon the drawings by the inventor, Georges Huysmans, in his own hand. Furthermore, each plan has been marked in the lower left-hand corner with the word 'accepted,' followed by the initials of the minister of war. I think this establishes beyond dispute the authenticity of these photographs of the plans for Huysmans' invention."

"Yes," the other agreed breathlessly. "You have the negatives from which these prints were made?"

"Here," Lanyard said, indicating a second cigarette.

And then, with a movement so leisurely and careless that his purpose was accomplished before the other in his preoccupation was aware of it, the adventurer leaned forward and went up the prints from the counterpane in front of M.

"POP!" GOES THE SWITCH; ALSO MOTORMAN

Frightened at the explosion of a fuse in the circuit breaker over his head in a northbound San Pablo avenue car. Tony Maderas, a motorman, dropped his controller, leaped from the car and left it to fate, according to a report to the police who removed Maderas to the Emergency hospital for treatment. The motorman was stunned in his fall to the pavement.

Conductor M. Mitchell, who was at the rear of the car did not notice that anything was wrong until the car had gone more than two blocks when he missed the motorman and sprang to the front end and took control of the speeding car. There were no passengers as the car was out-bound for its first trip.

TO TELL OF WORK

Mme. Ethel Capehart Viseur, who has come from France as the only delegate from the French Red Cross Society to California, is to be the speaker at a large gathering which is being arranged by Oakland Center of the California Civil League for Friday, August 17. Mme. Viseur comes to the coast to ask for aid for the across-the-seas patriotic society and to tell her story of appeal in a charming manner. She has been made much of in San Francisco, where she launched a campaign on behalf of the organization which she represents a week or so ago.

The Oakland civic workers have asked Mme. Viseur to tell of the work in which she has been interested in her own country. Hospital No. 120, St. Charles in the Marine, has been the institution in which she has had a personal part.

DAVIE TO ANSWER

Mayor Davie will file his answer to the affidavit for his recall next Saturday. It was stated today. In the meantime the recall forces are rounding up solicitors to circulate the proposed petition.

H. W. DeLeon of 638 Ninth street, who has obtained large numbers of signatures in former campaigns, stated today that he had been approached by numerous persons who sought his services in circulating the petition. He said that he had been offered as high as 25 cents a name, but that he refuses to get into the fight. He is running for office and does not want to be considered a candidate for commissioner, is among the leaders in the recall movement.

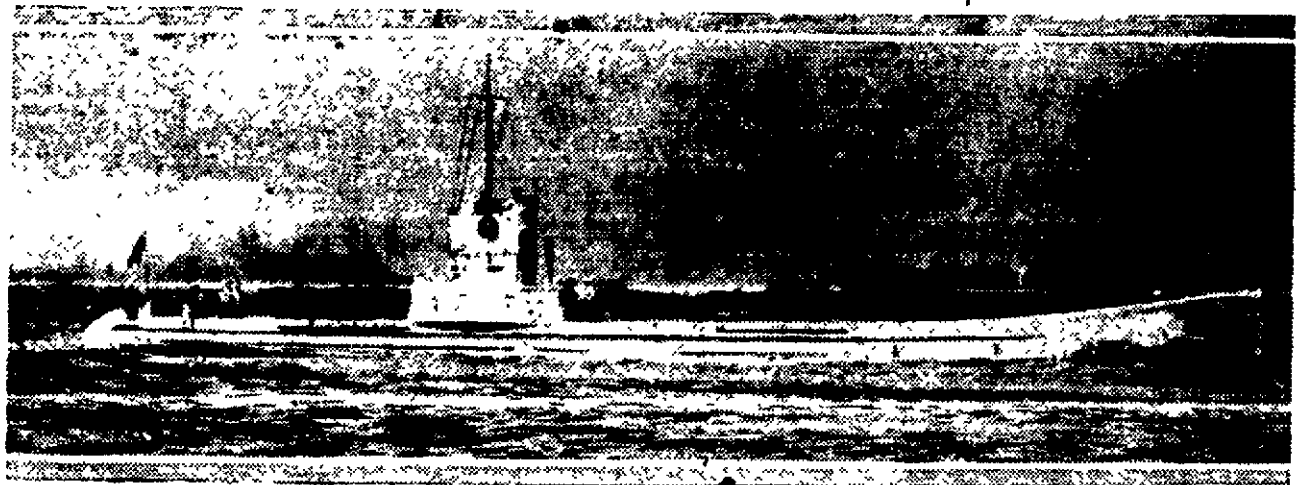

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Wm. L. Fletcher

How Supply Bases Were Laid in Every Sea; Trial Vessel Blown Up

By AXEL BJORNSEN, (A Scandinavian, who served for many years in the German submarine and torpedo boat service)

She made but poor headway, though everything was in her favor; and we accommodated our pace to hers. All that day and night, and throughout the next day we hovered about her, while she steamed heavily. In the dark of the second night she hove to, and Steinbrink gave the order to emerge and launch the dinghy.

He and I, together with his midshipman, a young fellow named Schultz, went aboard at the stern, which had been the subject of much surprise that she was manned by picked men from the German navy.

We took soundings, and then a long, fish-shaped object which had been towed by wire ropes attached to the steamer's bow was carefully freed, and as carefully lowered to the bottom.

Ten minutes later the steamer was on her way back eastward to Emden, whence she had come, and we went gently following the long, fish-shaped object to the bottom of the sea.

All hands were allowed to rest for some hours, but it seemed to me I had been asleep but a minute or two when I was awakened by Steinbrink.

"Now, Axel," he whispered, "the weather is just right for a trial of the diving trap."

Silently I rose, and together with Schultz we proceeded to the mysterious airship at the stern, which had been the subject of so much conjecture ever since the U-21 had been put in commission.

Steinbrink quickly donned the gear of a deep-sea diver. Without a moment's hesitation he slipped out of the cabin into the diving compartment, and soon we received the signal that told us he had found his way safely to the bottom of the sea. The submarine had not taken in one drop of water.

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT

For the next twenty minutes we were sufficiently busy with the air-pumps to feel no more than usual anxiety; but when the air-pumps were stopped, and that time we looked at one another with faces on which fear was plainly written.

Then, just as we were fearing the worst again, we received the signal, and releasing the trap, received him safely in. We removed his helmet, and found him triumphant, though exhausted.

"It works like a charm up to now," he proclaimed. "Now we must go to the oil-pumps."

In a few minutes we had the electric pump working, and I was amazed to see a steady flow of oil pouring into the half-empty tank. Steinbrink was beside himself with joy, and the younger officer was equally excited.

When the oil tank had been filled, the pumps were stopped; and Steinbrink was in good humor enough to explain to me exactly the nature of his successful experiment.

100,000 GALLONS

"In the first place," he pointed out, "the steamer we conveyed across from Emden was towing a tank which contained 100,000 gallons of oil, about six times as much as the capacity of a boat like U-21, which can carry 15,000 gallons, a stock which gives her a radius of 2,000 miles.

"The tank is divided into six compartments, and is fitted, like our own under-sea boat, with a diving compartment which communicates with all six reservoirs. As you saw, all I had to do was to make my exit by one trap, and enter the tank by another."

"There I found the two rubber tubes, by means of which the oil is transferred to the submarine, and the air which it replaces in our own reservoir passes into the tank, to allow the flow of the oil. That is simple, isn't it, Axel?"

"Quite simple, so far."

"The next step is for someone to get into the diver's dress, once more and unscrew those tubes, which will recoil into the tank by means of springs when they have been released. After that, a lever must be thrown down in the compartment, or else we shall have the tank floating before all the oil has been drawn from it. As that would never do, I nominate you, Axel, for the next turn in the diver's dress."

OF AMERICAN COAST

Yes, Steinbrink was in high good humor that day, and before we had returned from the cruise had confided in me many additional details concerning the sunken oil reserves and the effect they would have on the naval warfare of the future.

"With a tank like that on the New-foundland banks," he boasted, "and another somewhere down Florida way, I could harry the whole coast shipping of the Yankees for three months without ever running out of fuel. For the next years, I tell you, we shall have our under-sea depots all over the world, in the quiet Pacific, and all along the coast line of Africa and Asia. They shall answer to the coaling stations of the damned Englishmen."

"They rule the waves, do they?" Well, we shall rule the world from underneath the waves. What is a Dreadnought, or a fleet of Dreadnoughts? My little U-21 will put them all down in one week of warfare."

"The joke of the whole thing is"—and here Steinbrink stopped to laugh with a very real enjoyment—"the joke of it is that we got the idea for nothing, absolutely nothing. It came from one of the idiotic Yankees, a mad inventor named Simon Lake. The whole of U-21, except the engines, of course, was built on improvements made at Krupp's on plans he sent there for approval."

"The under-sea reservoir was detailed in the same plans, and he had spent a lot of trouble in inventing out the best shape for towing by a submarine, the design of which he also kindly furnished. We are experimenting with it at present."

"This man Lake only wanted $500,000 for his idea, and then he was promised readily enough. I believe that made me think he had the Kaiser's own word for it. He is still asking for the money, or for his plans back. As if there were any such thing in Germany as a patent for a war invention. Bah."

In this boisterous strain he continued until we had returned to Wilhelmshaven, when he rushed ashore to make his report to Admiral Von Uexhoedde, who was

Hairs Creates Sensation (Actually, Takes Out The Roots)

What beauty specialists regard as one of the most important discoveries in recent years is the phenolite method of removing superfluous hair. Its great advantage, of course, lies in the fact that it actually removes the hair roots. It does this easily, instantly, harmlessly. Sufferers from the affliction named need no longer despair. The actual hair roots come out before your very eyes, leaving the skin as smooth and hairless as a baby's.

Because it offers such complete relief, a stick of phenolite is the most inexpensive thing a woman can buy for her personal grooming. For the reason, however, that it does not hesitate to sell it under a money-back guarantee, you can use it with entire safety; it is so harmless one could even eat it without any ill effect.—Advertisement

ALARM ACCIDENT

Automatic fire alarm bells clanged in the Waterhouse & Lester Company factory at Beach and Hallock streets and the fire department raced there this morning in response to the automatic warning. Officials and employees of the firm had meantime tried vainly to find the fire. It was not until the fire engines were outside the plant and firemen were coupling up hose ready for any emergency that the cause of the alarm being turned in was discovered. Steam escaping from a pipe in the factory hissed against an electric alarm which gives automatic warning of high temperature which would ensue in the event of a fire.

GIVEN DAMAGES

Bertram Rogers and Margaret Rogers, his wife were today awarded $1500 damages by Judge J. W. Harris for personal injury in a suit against William Rutherford and his wife, Margaret Rutherford. The action was the result of an automobile accident near Lafayette, Contra Costa county several months ago, when the Rutherford machine, driven by the Rogers' machine, collided with the Rogers' machine. Rogers sustaining personal injuries. Damages to the amount of $15,000 were asked.

Garis' Bedtime Stories—1

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, you will make it for us, won't you?"

"And one that will go away up high, please!"

Sammie and Susie Littell, the two rabbit children, came running out to see the hollow stump bungalow where Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, lived with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Now, don't you two rabbit bunnies come bothering Uncle Wiggily," spoke Nurse Jane, though she said it in a very nice way, and handed Sammie and Susie each a sugar carrot cookie and she said: "He has no time to do things for you. Hop along!"

"Wait! Wait!" cried Uncle Wiggily himself in his most jolly voice. "What is it you want, Sammie and Susie?"

"Oh, we want you to put us up a story," they begged, "for we have no school now, and we can swing all day long. Please, Uncle Wiggily, won't you?"

"Well, I guess I can hardly say no when you ask me that way," answered the bunny, and Susie cried:

"Oh, if you do I'll give you a Scotch kiss!"

"I like them!" said Uncle Wiggily, so Susie kissed him Scotch fashion, which she did by taking hold of his pink rabbit nose in one paw and his long ear in the other and kissing him right between them.

"Now, I must surely make a swing," laughed the bunny uncle.

"So out he went to the woods with Sammie and Susie, and being a wise old rabbit gentleman, it did not take Uncle Wiggily long to find a nice tree with a big branch on which a swing could be put.

"But what will we use for ropes?" asked Sammie, for he saw that Uncle Wiggily did not have any.

"I know!" cried Susie, clapping her paws.

"Yes, you do not?" said Sammie.

"Yes, I do! You can use a wild grape vine, can't you, Uncle Wiggily, same as I use for a jumping rope?"

"Yes, a wild grape vine would make the very best kind of a swing rope in the woods," said the bunny uncle. "One, you bunnies must be useful, as well as ornamental. So get busy, with strong teeth, and help me gnaw off pieces of the vine for ropes."

Uncle Wiggily gnawed some himself, and with these and some vines which he bit off, soon there was plenty of the grape vine rope. The bunny uncle threw two ends over the tree branch, tied slip knots in them, pulled on them hard so that the knots slid up toward the branch and there was as nice a swing as heart could wish for.

"All it needs is a board to sit on!" said Susie.

"And I'll make that for you!" cried Uncle Wiggily, the beaver boy, who had teeth made on purpose for gnawing. So from a poplar tree he gnawed out a long board, and soon Sammie and Susie were swinging back and forth in the grape vine swing under the tree, giving Toodle a turn now and then for having made the board for them.

"Don't you want to swing, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Sammie.

"No, I'm too old," said the bunny. "I might get dizzy and fall out. Then my pink nose wouldn't twinkle any more, and he laughed as though that would be the most jolly thing in the world."

But Sammie and Susie and Toodle had fun in the swing. They did Johnnie and Billie Bunbly, the squirrels, and Jack and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys as well as Jillie and Jillie Longtail, the mole children.

Then when it became too dark for the little animal children to stay in the woods any longer they went home. But the grapevine swing was left up under the tree, and that evening when Uncle Wiggily had finished reading the paper, and it was nearly time to go to bed in his hollow stump bungalow, he said to Nurse Jane:

"I think I'll take a little walk in the woods before going to bed. Then I'll sleep better."

"All right," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper, "but be careful, nothing catches you. It is very dark."

"I'll be careful," laughed the bunny. As he went out alone the path he had made in his hollow stump bungalow had not gone very far before he came to the swing.

NO PERQUISITES FOR ARMY COOKS

Uncle Sam does not intend to feed the families of married cooks and bakers who enlist in the service, according to a circular letter from the adjutant-general's office at Washington to all recruiting officers.

The letter calls attention to the fact that all applicants for enlistment as cooks and bakers in the War Department branches of the service, who are married, must understand that they must maintain their families without expectation of aid from the government.

This elimination of perquisites for members of the quartermaster's corps is in line with the Federal policy to make dependents self-supporting as far as possible. The elimination of direct supplies is a duplication of a system already in operation in Europe.

RECORD TO BE ESTABLISHED IN NEW CAMP

CAMP FREMONT, Aug. 2.—High pressure government system is responsible for the activity of more than 300 carpenters, electricians and plumbers, who with all the magic rapidity of a movie studio are transforming a ground into an army city, populated with thousands of khaki-clad figures. It is estimated that by the end of the week, more than 500 men will be busily engaged in the record construction work which is to rush the camp to completion.

More than 720,000 feet of lumber has arrived in two trainloads already and another twenty-car train is expected today. A workmen's special train between the camp and San Francisco has been established for the hundreds of men who will make the trip daily. It will leave San Francisco at 5 o'clock in the morning and return at 6 o'clock. The general camp construction is being carried on under the direction of William Waters of Baker, Carpenter & Waters Company, who is construction superintendent.

The camp is rapidly becoming famous for its mascots. A bull dog named "Fido" attached to Company A, California Infantry, Corps, two goats, a guinea-pig and three lizards are already official pets. Night raids upon the camp commissary by several of these mascots and the wailing notes of several phonographs enliven the tedious of the day's drill and army routine and provide a side amusement for the young soldiers.

The social side of the camp is becoming an important issue. Social sections of all kinds, parties, dances, balls and other forms of entertainment are being given nightly by residents of Palo Alto and Menlo Park for different members of the various companies. This by way of contrast to the marching, manual of arms and other strenuous activities of the camp's day life.

BOARD ORGANIZED

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 2.—Meeting for organization of the district exemption board for Kern, Fresno, San Luis and San Bernardino, Ventura, Merced, Mariposa, Inyo, Madera, Tulare, Kings, Riverdale, Imperial counties, Bakersfield is selected for the permanent headquarters of the board. George C. Redding of Fresno was elected chairman and W. W. Harris of Bakersfield, secretary. Other members present at the meeting were: Dr. Evans of Riverside and Dr. Gayle C. Mosley of San Bernardino with one absent, Paul Gregory of San Luis Obispo. The work of the board will not begin until examination of the selected men commences by local exemption boards. A meeting will be held at the call of the chairman, probably not until after August 7.

MOBILIZE ROADS

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 2.—Plans of the Canadian government for nationalization for railways in the dominion on a large scale were announced in parliament by Sir Thomas White, finance minister. He declared that in addition to the government-owned, later-colonial railway in eastern Canada, it is proposed to acquire the entire Canadian Northern Railway system of over 9000 miles, of which 6000 miles are situated in the western wheat belt.

MANY ENLISTED

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 2.—Kern county has discounted its net draft quota 12 per cent in the twelve days since the announcement of selectives on July 20. Sixty men enlisted in the United States service, the majority of whom were called in the first contingent. With the posting of official notices of the draft call tomorrow, the tide of volunteers will be stemmed, it is said, by recruiting officers. Kern's quota is 508 men.

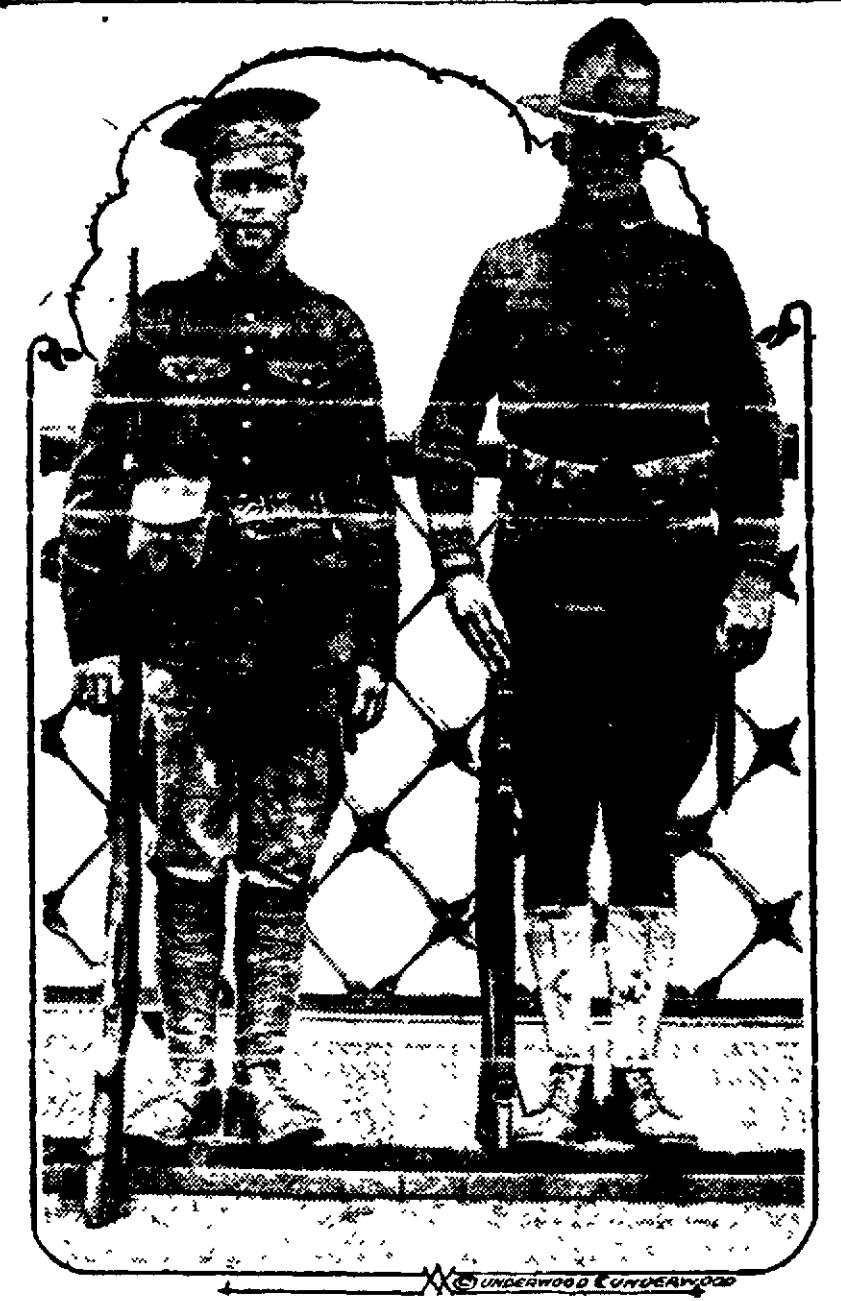

BEEFLESS DAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Resolutions to make every Tuesday a beefless day and to inaugurate systematic measures to curtail consumption of wheat bread, butter, sugar and young animal meat, adopted by the Food Administration's hotel and restaurant committee, whose membership includes the proprietors of many of the country's leading hotels and restaurants.

Pershing Inspects U. S. Camps Finds All Well With Sammies

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Wednesday, Aug. 1.—General Pershing gave the American expeditionary force an example of the strenuous life by sweeping through nearly a dozen villages where United States soldiers are living in France and visiting nearly all training centers which have been established from America's first great contribution for the war for democracy.

It was not a cursory inspection. He went into minute details all along the line, questioned private soldiers, company cooks and various other ranks as to how things were going and what, if anything, could be done to improve the situation. The general is also inspecting various places suggested for his field headquarters, for he expects before very long to remove from Paris near the troops in training. He will return to Paris late tomorrow.

At the end of the first day's inspection, General Pershing said:

"Our principal concern just now, of course, is to perfect the army organization. This is a big task, but it is moving along smoothly and in a most satisfactory manner."

"The work at certain ports of disembarkation is well started. Railroad material is coming over as rapidly as can be arranged. The progress we have made thus far with assistance of the French is a source of great satisfaction to me. Billets and training ground for the men are as well located as could be expected for this time of the year."

"After they are moved we will have to make arrangements for training and training of divisions that are to come. Some of the places where the men are now sleeping are not all that could be desired, but this soon will be remedied by the construction of portable barracks. Training is progressing very well with the assistance of the French."

SAILORS TO HAVE NEW CLUBHOUSE

BASE AMERICAN FLOTILLAS IN BRITISH WATERS, Aug. 2.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Authorization to spend the money necessary properly to equip their new clubhouse with athletic apparatus and musical instruments has just been received by the American sailors from the Navy Department in Washington. The news was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the men. It gives them what amounts to carte blanche in the matter of providing for their shore amusements over here.

The first step upon receipt of the welcome news was despatched an order to the United States for $1000 worth of musical instruments to augment the string orchestra which entertains the men every Saturday night in their new clubhouse. Their order also calls for a plentiful supply of the latest ragtime and other typical American music which has made a big hit with the native population.

HOSPITAL PLANS PROVE EXTENSIVE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Adequate provision for reconstruction hospitals, where crippled soldiers may be fitted with artificial limbs and re-educated in new trades, is included in the army medical department's hospital program, as outlined in a statement today. This will not be undertaken, however, until after completion of the thirty-two hospitals at national army and national guard camps, enlargement of more than thirty hospitals at officers' training camps, establishment of at least two general hospitals at ports, and of a number of special treatment institutions.

"The aim of the medical department," says the statement, "is to have hospital provision for five per cent of the enlisted force by fall and then to proceed to extend that to ten per cent. Abroad, facilities for twenty per cent of the American expeditionary forces will be provided."

THREE PER CENT.

"At cantonments, hospital provision will be made for three per cent of the troops at each camp. A complete modern hospital will be constructed at each, containing at least one thousand beds. With the space reserved for extensions, each hospital and its auxiliary buildings will require sixty acres. The thirty-two hospitals will cost about $14,500,000. Each hospital will have equipment equal to that of the best institutions in the country, although the construction of the buildings will be of much cheaper quality. About seventy buildings will be compressed in each cantonment hospital on the 1000 bed basis.

"Each hospital will have a well equipped laboratory where bacteriological and pathological work can be done which any well equipped hospital could handle."

MANY EXAMINATIONS.

"Every man in the new armies will have the equivalent of six or more examinations by specialists, in addition to the regular examinations as to general health and condition. Every man will be examined for tuberculosis, affections of the heart, foot trouble, ear, throat and nose diseases, hookworm and other intestinal infections and for typhoid, paratyphoid and other disease carriers which are sometimes present and communicable to others when the person himself is in good health."

"It is a fact that many men are entered in the records as 'sick' when they would not be regarded as even moderately serious in civil life."

MUST BE SANITARY

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 2.—Public bath houses and swimming pools in the state will have to be conducted in a strictly sanitary manner, in accordance with the bath house act, which became effective last Friday, in order to obtain or hold permits, now being printed. This announcement has been made by Dr. W. A. Sawyer, secretary of the State Board of Health. The administration of the new law has been placed in the hands of bureau of sanitary engineering of the State Board of Health at Berkeley.

MANY FACTORIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Companies operating on the Pacific coast for the purpose of securing contracts to build government aeroplanes will be disappointed for some time at least Chairman Coffin of the aircraft production board of the council of national defense informed Representative Kahn today that four existing aeroplane factories on the coast may take care of any contracts that may be awarded.

NO "FOOD SQUAD"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Navy men are "no poison squad," says Paymaster General McGowan, chief of the navy's bureau of supplies and accounts, in an order insisting on rigid inspection of food purchases. "It is therefore directed," he said, "that every effort be made to try on the part of the navy's bureau of supplies and accounts whatever shall be necessary to suppress it. It should be borne in mind that doubtful food is bad food and will be treated as such."

PROHIBITION AMENDMENT IS HALTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—National prohibition by constitutional amendment was halted today by the prohibition leaders themselves.

The resolution to submit the proposal to the states, passed yesterday by the Senate, was put over until the end of the present session and will not come up until the regular session in December.

Plans to reconvene the Democratic caucus and reverse its decision to consider only war legislation were abandoned because it was believed delaying action until the next session will help the prohibition cause.

"It is likely that no action will be taken by the House before the new Congress convenes," said Representative Webb, House leader today.

"When it comes up it will pass overwhelmingly," he said.

Dry in and out of Congress, however, are laying the groundwork now for pushing their fight.

State organizations were notified today to put extra pressure into the campaign for ratification of the amendment. The doubtful states will be the center of a heavy attack.

"We will see the adoption of the prohibition amendment by the necessary number of states," E. C. Dinwiddie, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, said.

"I will not say now the States in which we will begin our fight. But we will easily add ten states to the twenty-six already 'dry' or about to go 'dry' by legislation heretofore enacted."

House "dry" today talked of a Democratic caucus to determine whether prohibition shall be brought up despite the previous caucus agreement to consider nothing but war measures.

STABS AGED NEGRO

FRESNO, Aug. 1.—Enraged at being run into by Henry Wilson, an aged negro character about town, and mistaking Wilson for Ed Coey, an alleged enemy, William Lee Hamilton stabbed Wilson so severely that the old man died at the emergency hospital this morning. Hamilton was arrested by Police Sergeant Wickstrom, who saw the fight, but arrived too late to save Wilson. The stabbing occurred early this morning in the business district. According to the police Hamilton confessed today.

STEAL RADIUM

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2.—Radium valued at $800 and $185 in cash were taken from Dr. G. P. Gehring early today by two masked bandits who "got the drop" on the doctor and stole his office. The bandits were evidently familiar with the value of radium. Not content with the cash, one of the duo said:

"Give me all the radium you've got; it's richer than gold. Whereupon the doctor handed over the radium element."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Iowa and Washington have filled their quotas of war volunteers for the regular army. A total of 1921 men was recruited yesterday throughout the country, bringing the number of war volunteers recruited since April 1 up to 175,187 against the 183,898 needed to bring the army to full war strength.

WILL IGNORE UNION CLAIMS IN SHIP PLANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The policy of the United States to man American ships with alien masters and to disregard all unions in the manning of ships was laid down as final at a conference between Secretary of Labor Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, members of the shipping board, representatives of vessel owners and of seamen and masters.

The necessity of getting men to take out American ships was declared to be vital by Secretary Redfield, who declared that a delay of one day in getting one ship cleared from an American port might mean the loss of 1500 lives in France. He urged that shipping men and seamen "beat the drum" and get the ships manned and cleared regardless of all other considerations.

WEEKS IS OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The resolution by Senator Weeks for a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures similar to the provision in the food control act because of President Wilson's objections was adversely reported to the Senate today by the rules committee. Administration leaders are confident that the majority vote required to secure Senate consideration of the resolution cannot be secured.

DATE IS CHANGED

SAYS BIG PLANES WILL CROSS SEAS

By David M. Church.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Great battle planes will fly across the Atlantic ocean before this war is done. Huge airplanes carrying tons of explosives will bombard German cities. Speedy aircraft will be built that will amaze the world. All this will happen if America lends her powers and resources to the allies.

It was a small man, soft spoken and calm who made these predictions today, Major R. Peretti of the Italian permanent aeronautical mission to the United States. The master aviator of Italy was sitting in the midst of huge mounds of drawings and blueprints with his shirt sleeves rolled up and his collar turned down.

"That is what we have done in Italy," he said as he displayed a picture of one of the largest airplanes ever built. "That is our latest machine. You will notice that it has a large span—110 feet. That machine carries three engines, two tractor and one pusher. It can develop 3000 horsepower and fly at a rate of 145 miles an hour under most adverse conditions. Six thousand pounds of weight go up with that machine. Just subtract the weight of three men and you will see that it can carry 5000 pounds of explosives. What 5000 pounds of explosives can do when dropped on enemy fortifications just imagine for yourself."

"That is not all we have done; we now have under construction a machine of 7000 horsepower. We will cross the Atlantic with that machine and there are still greater machines to come."

Major Peretti expressed absolute confidence that America's air program will give the needed impetus to the allies and before many months Germany will be a negative quantity in the air.

"I have seen our men time and again sail forth at the rate of a hundred miles an hour into a swirling snowstorm to attack the enemy. They are the men who fight for Italy and the allies."

"What Italy has done America can do. Italy has come to aid America and America can aid Italy."

"Da Vinci designed the first airplane. Seven years later I saw Wilbur Wright fly in that machine in Rome. Today the sons of Italy are bringing back to America the most advanced flying machines. They are America's for her brave youth to fly."

GLEAVES TELLS OF ATTACK ON U. S. TRANSPORT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Details of the attack by German submarines upon the first expedition of American troops sent to France became known for the first time when the report of Rear Admiral Gleaves, commanding the naval convoy, was made public by Secretary Daniels. The first attack was made on Admiral Gleaves' flagship, leading the first group of the expeditionary force, and at least two submarines were indicated to be engaged. The admiral stated the belief that the U-boats had knowledge of the coming of the troop ships and were on watch for them.

The second group of transports also was attacked by two submarines, one of which apparently was sent to the bottom by a bomb dropped from an American destroyer. There is disagreement among officers of the third group as to whether they were attacked, but much evidence is presented to indicate that they also were assailed.

The plan is to commandeer charters, and, wherever advisable, let the ship itself be operated by its owner under a government charter. In this way the government will direct operations and specify services in which ships shall play and, at the same time, avoid expenditure of the vast sum of money that would be required if the hulls themselves were taken over.

Wherever operators fail to carry out the shipping board's regulations, charters will be taken from them and given to others.

U. S. WILL OPERATE ALL OCEAN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Plans for taking over for operation all American ocean going merchant ships soon will be announced by the American shipping board. Charters will be requisitioned under a recent act of congress authorizing the president to commandeer tonnage for government use.

The program is preliminary to putting into operation an agreement between the American and British governments for joint control of the world in shipping. It will give the shipping board control of ocean freight rates charged by American ships and a rate basis, being worked out, will be used for building an international rate schedule.

The chief aim in commandeering charters is to get more ships into transatlantic service. Many American coastwise vessels and ships now engaged in the Pacific and South American trade will be diverted to transatlantic runs. Their places will be taken to a large extent by neutral ships and by Japanese tonnage.

The plan is to commandeer charters, and, wherever advisable, let the ship itself be operated by its owner under a government charter. In this way the government will direct operations and specify services in which ships shall play and, at the same time, avoid expenditure of the vast sum of money that would be required if the hulls themselves were taken over.

Wherever operators fail to carry out the shipping board's regulations, charters will be taken from them and given to others.

RELY UPON THE LAW.

The hanging of an I. W. W. leader in Butte, Montana, may be an isolated case of a few citizens of a community scornful of the normal processes of the law and taking "justice" into their own hands. Let us hope that it is only that; that all communities will resolve that the Butte lynching shall not be duplicated by them.

The present period of intensified I. W. W. agitation requires that the patience of law-abiding citizens be exercised to the extreme limit. It is in the creed of the I. W. W. organization that the laws and police authorities are to be treated with scornful defiance; that the right to the ownership of property and of protection of property does not exist. They openly preach sabotage and there are numerous proven cases where they have practiced sabotage.

This attitude and the practices which it endorses sorely tries the tolerance of the 99 percent of the population which has assisted in erecting the fabric of law and order and which believes in its maintenance at all costs. It probably is true that some of the outrages that have been committed in the Pacific Coast States, such as the burning of grain and hay, poisoning of cattle and incalculable damage to property, have been attributed to I. W. W. activities, but the known outrages of the organization have been such as to cause many communities to conclude that drastic measures are necessary to wipe out this menace. The charge that the I. W. W. is committing its depredations in the interest of Germany has gone far to create a situation in which positive anger is the feeling of a large portion of the people.

This situation is dangerous. It calls for an unusual degree of temperance and strong resolution to let all punishment be administered according to law.

The police and the government are patient and tolerant. They wait until an overt violation of some law has been committed and then very often give the alleged offender the benefit of the doubt. The peaceful and law-abiding residents of the country should resolve to let the police and the federal agents handle this question. They will do it adequately and effectively, though perhaps not with the expedition which many may desire. But whatever their degree of success, it will be far better than a reign of terrorism and lynch law which is threatened by the occurrences at Butte, Montana, and Bisbee, Arizona. No doubt the authorities henceforth will exert greater effort to control all manifestations of lawlessness. Their obvious duty fosters the hope and public safety demands that this will be so.

EXPOSING FALSEHOOD.

Kaiser Wilhelm's proclamation to the German people yesterday assures them that the German forces are invincible. It did not bother him that the day before the British and French troops had dislodged the strongest concentration of his military forces from thirty square miles of Belgian territory. Nor does the fact that the French and English have proven themselves able to accomplish any objective which they have set during the last six months seem to have affected the Kaiser's ability to promise the German people anything which they might like to hear. Invincibility with him may be a state of mind.

A few days ago Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, charged that a secret treaty had been entered into between Russia and France concerning a program of annexations. The French premier, Monsieur Ribot, officially and publicly calls Dr. Michaelis a liar, and the records justify Monsieur Ribot's positive stand.

Michaelis has his Ribot, the Kaiser has his Haig and Petain, and German pretensions have the united forces of democracy. This is the time in which the lie is being given to everything connected with the Prussian military despotism.

Mr. Theodore E. Burton, former United States senator from Ohio and now president of the Merchants' National Bank of New York city, has made an interesting comparison and a forecast with reference to our war expenditures. He points out that the total expenses of the government from 1789 to the first year of the Civil war, 1861, were a little more than $1,800,000,000. The disbursements for the first two years of the Civil war surpassed this total, amounting to $2,052,000,000, and for the four years of that war, from 1861 to 1865, they were $3,348,000,000. This was not far short of twice the total expenditures for seventy-two years from the formation of the government in 1789 down to the beginning of the Civil War. From these figures, Senator Burton concludes: "It is altogether within the domain of possibilities that history will repeat itself and the expenditures of the United States in the present contest will equal or surpass the cost of all the activities of the federal government both in war and in peace for 128 years to 1917, amounting to approximately $30,000,000,000."

"MAKE DEMOCRACY SAFE."

In addressing the constitutional convention of Massachusetts a few weeks ago, Governor Samuel W. McCall of that State declared that "democracy must be made safe for the world." This phrase is so different from the formula announced by the President—"the world must be made safe for democracy"—that Governor McCall was asked by many persons if he intended a criticism of the President's statement. He replied that he did not mean to assert that what the President said was not true, but that, "often by looking into a truth we see a deeper meaning and a truer guidance as to the course to pursue in attaining the truth."

Governor McCall explains his view at length in an interview in the New York Times Sunday magazine. "Democracy is not a shy flower," he says, "some exotic to be sheltered from the winds and storms, but must be conceived of as a strong man making his way in the world in the face of tempests, having in him all the strength of the race, and there is no higher power that can patronize him and make the world safe for him to live in."

It is perhaps more correct, asserts the Massachusetts statesman, to say that democracy will come into its own not when the world is made safe for it, but when it has made itself safe for the world. Governor McCall then explains how democracy's safety may be achieved:

"This safety can be attained by providing democracy with the necessary organs, by giving it eyes to see and sure methods of expression, and by giving it a backbone, enabling it to stand erect and capable at all times and under all emergencies. Without the necessary organs democracy would be, as it has often been in the past, the prey of selfish designs. In the history of democracy thus far, it has been at a disadvantage on account of lack of organization, in the fuller sense of that term. From lack of organization democracy has been compelled more than once to bear the guilt of glaring faults, and has at times shown failure in promoting the great ends of government. This is what I mean by making democracy safe for itself, able to meet effectively whatever situation arises."

"This can be done by devising a mechanism in response to the needs of the times. The character of the times is very different now from what it formerly was—now when we are swirling along in the era of wireless and telephones. Thus in these times we have to reach conclusions more speedily than formerly, but all the more must we be careful not to reach superficial conclusions. Perhaps I should say that not so much are new organs of government required as to make those we have more efficient."

"Democratic government must be developed in the interest of efficiency, to get things done promptly that call for promptness, especially where great issues are at stake. But as the efficiency is attained, the sense of responsibility on the part of the citizen should keep step with the increase in government efficiency. Otherwise, where the citizenry is not alert and full of a sense of civic duty, we run the risk of the development of autocratic powers."

Governor McCall suggests as a possible important cog in a mechanism or organization for efficient and prompt expression a cabinet or ministry responsible to the elected Congress. Without the right to vote, members of such a cabinet would have seats in Congress and the privilege of presenting measures and giving the reasons for their enactment. This, he believes, would avoid such interminable dawdling as has been in evidence during the present session of Congress, when vital war measures demanded speedy action.

This and many other suggestions of Governor McCall deserve serious consideration. He emphasizes that the tests that the war has put on democracy will work to the ultimate good of democratic government, for in order to correct weaknesses it is first necessary that they be exposed. In the future democracy must be regarded less as an ideal and more as an effective system of popular government if it is to be "safe for the world."

The right gait has been struck in the treatment of the I. W. W. in Idaho. When forty who were interned pretended the food was not what they ought to be getting and adopted the tactics of the suffragettes in resorting to a hunger strike, the military authorities did not pry their mouths open and force them to take nourishment, as they seemed to expect. The authorities simply paid no attention. The prisoners, finding that such a plan would not work, speedily surrendered and sent word that they were ready to eat. But the military spokesman interposed a condition, which was that they must first rebuild some fence they had torn down in the first frenzy of their mutiny. Such decisive treatment as this, instead of wrangling in civil courts, wherein they are able to pose before all who may be tainted with their sort of thing, is what will tend to cure them of lawlessness.

The heat wave in the Eastern and Central States has caused over 300 deaths. Nothing was needed so much in these sections of the world as rain, and nothing could have been dispensed with so easily on the battlefields of Flanders as the torrential downpour which there interfered with the allied program.

NOTES and COMMENT

The man who is above consulting his wife is come up with if he desires to enlist. He has to have her consent and an affidavit that she can make out in his absence. However, enlistments are not likely to be greatly retarded from this requirement.

It has taken some time to correct the impression that was created on the German mind by the declaration that we were "too proud to fight," but they must be coming to understand now that it did not mean cowardice.

One of the results of the war is the probable revision of the American shipping laws, which have got in such shape that they encourage the shipping of nearly every country except ours. Out of the experiences the country is going through some shipping wisdom is likely to evolve.

The trouble with the cannery hands appears to have been stirred up by foreigners in such a way and in so many places simultaneously that it may reasonably be laid to an inspiration farther back than a desire to get more pay and shorter hours.

Considering the price per dozen here, this from the San Diego Union may interest. "Some of the United States marines are now serving over in China, and they report by mail that they are living well. 'Eggs are now selling in Peking for 30 cents a hundred,' is the message sent by one enthusiastic marine."

Gardening item from the San Jose Mercury: "An easy-riding widow has the best chance for getting a new mate. Nothing like wet weather for transplanting."

The bank clearings of these communities mount still higher. Economists figure that bank clearances do not mean as much as laymen are inclined to think they do, but they certainly are not an indication of a scarcity of money. Quite the reverse.

The bride who encourages slackers is now to be taken in hand. It is presumed that her method of encouragement is to marry the slacker, which is serious business, and no mistake.

Selling liquor to soldiers in the district across the bay is a serious business, as many are finding out. They have to reckon with the federal authorities, which is altogether different from the usual easy arrangement in the Police Court.

There is necessity for brisk action in the matter of the county bond issue to provide for the bascule bridge and the much-needed county hospital. The important things at home must not be overlooked.

A noiseless alarm clock is advertised, and the Richmond Record-Herald wants to know if its principle can be applied to the milk wagon and the man who takes a turn at warming up his engine.

"Auto strikes waiter and keeps on going." That is more than many can say after they meet up with a waiter.

These reports of battle progress that are given out by the several governments may bear the official stamp, but they are not what the reader of the current news will admit as "good stuff."

A new sort of vandal has emerged. He throws acid on the bodies of automobiles. Where he gets enjoyment from it is the deep mystery that envelops the acts of all such miscreants.

The Gold Hill News tells of Dorothy's return: "Dorothy Smith came home Saturday evening after a two weeks' vacation, part of which she spent on the farm and learned to run a binder."

SPRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The city council has received a letter from J. J. Silva, secretary of the Vallejo Trades and Labor Council, asking that the municipality consider the plan of erecting a municipal plunge inside the city limits. The letter points out that the city of Colusa has successfully adopted such a plan. The communication was referred to City Engineer Kilkenny, who will submit estimates on the cost.—Vallejo Times

Here is the devious course that some of our Sonoma county prunes have followed. A London embassador on a recent visit was in the prize court the attorney-general asked for the condemnation of some 1800 tons of dried fruits from New York and San Francisco seized on the steamers "San Francisco" and "Pacific" consigned to the Swedish Victualing Commission, a government department, but alleged to be intended for export to Germany.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Last year E. L. Rice tested out his centrifugal force machine gun at the Mare Island navy yard, but the machine which propelled the centrifugal force machine gun could not develop enough power to fulfill the claims of its inventor. Rice took the invention to Washington and despite the fact that the House appropriation committee has set aside $50,000 for the development of the gun, the machine was not tested.—Vallejo Times

The cannery strike is not too serious a matter for the practical joker. Half a dozen private detectives were passengers in a flat car which was sent into a big packing plant the other night. Railroadmen could not resist the temptation to have a little fun at their expense and when the car and locomotive came out there was a fusillade of explosions. The trainmen say the detectives dropped to the floor of the car like they had all been shot. The noise was made by track torpedoes laid by the practical jokers.—San Jose Mercury.

In glancing over the titles of the laws just now going into effect, enacted by the last legislature, it is significant that the words "inspection," "supervision" and "regulation" recur so frequently as to become ominous. Is it possible that we are carelessly allowing ourselves to be bound hand and foot with petty fetters, like Gulliver? That nation is best governed which is governed the least, we are taught, and yet California is fast becoming the most governed State on the face of the globe.—Santa Rosa Republican.

THE FORUM

The Editor of The Tribune solicits responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in this column. Brief contributions on current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not as a rule be printed unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

UNPATRIOTIC.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The attempt by some newspapers to stigmatize England as a nation of slackers, in insulting editorials and cartoons, is quite in keeping with the pro-German attitude these papers have maintained throughout the war, and before it.

There are recreant or indifferent individuals in all countries, and ours affords a natural refuge for the unworthy; but thousands of young Englishmen and Canadians from every State in the Union have hastened to the trenches in France. The slackers are exceptional, the proportion being small when compared with the preponderance of British over other foreigners.

History has not known a more prompt, general and spontaneous response to a country's call to arms than that displayed by the volunteer armies of England and Canada. It is an American journalist to persist in a petty personal spite toward America's ally, who first threw down the gauntlet to the bully of Europe and who is now holding the seas in a steady, iron grip, while America is donning her armor.

WANTS AN INSPECTOR.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

As we are nearing the time when hundreds of people will be drawing into the different hop fields to gather this year's crop, hoping to earn a few extra dollars, I would ask you if you couldn't assist in helping to get a weight inspector to visit the different fields to inspect the weights and scales.

It seems as though there are different weights at different weighing times. The weighing is done about 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. If the inspector would step in at this time and see that the weights are correct it would relieve much disputing and the poor would get their just weights. So give your help and we will appreciate it very much.
Ukiah, Cal., July 29.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Can you inform me through your columns if America will exempt the only son of families or not? I understand that exemption is the rule in other countries.

A. PATRON.
Oakland, July 31, 1917.

Exemptions are to be decided upon the grounds prescribed by the War Department at Washington—for physical disability, where it is proven that the drafted soldier has a wife, children or near relative solely dependent upon him for a livelihood, and other reasons. That one is an only son is not in itself ground for exemption.—The Editor

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The steamer Belgic arrived here from Hong Kong bringing word that Chinese pirates on the Achen coast of Sumatra had captured the British steamer Pegu and had murdered Captain Ross and seven of his crew and wounded sixteen others.

Racing was resumed at the Oakland race track under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association.

Librarian Peterson at a meeting of the library trustees submitted an estimate showing that $21,558 is needed for the ensuing year to meet expenses. Members of Company F, Fifth Infantry, National Guard, adopted a resolution addressed to Major John F. Hayes commanding the second battalion, protesting against the wearing of the National Guard uniform by semi-military organizations in the state and asking that a law be enacted prohibiting such use of the uniform.

PROCESSIONAL.

Not for a flaunted flag O God,
Not for affronted power,
Not for the pride of an hour,
Not for vengeance hot in the heart,
Now do we swing to war,
Not for a weak mistrust lost peace
Is a shame among men abhor.
Not for glory—for oh, to kill
Should be a sacred wrath;
Not for these! But to war on war
And sweep it from earth's path!
Patient has been our creed, till now,
Patient, too, our hope
Patient for long our loathful deed,
For the just in doubt must grope.
But with a foe at last arrayed
Against the whole world's right,
You, O soul of the universe,
You yourself, so but one prayer
Need we to lift—but one prayer
That by our battle shall all war
Be utterly undone.
—Cale Young Rice in the Vigilantes.

STRINGENT ORDERS GIVEN DRAFT EXEMPTION BOARD

SERVICE IS TO OUTFRANK PREFERENCE

With the time growing shorter for the consideration of exemption claims by the various boards appointed to take up the claims of registrants, stringent orders have been received from Washington to use every precaution to prevent discharge of men from draft on the grounds of material hardship to either themselves or their employers, as a portion of the industrial exemption program.

The warning to local exemption boards is contained in a circular received from Provost Marshal General Crowder, in which it is stated that exemptions are to be granted to men who are absolutely essential only to businesses and enterprises necessary to the proper prosecution of the war. All others must, under the order, sweep aside personal preferences for the national good.

Of interest to local registrants is the announcement by Warren Olney, Jr., member of the draft appeal board, that all claims for exemptions from the draft grounds will have to go to San Francisco after seeing their own board, to secure investigation of their claims.

The list of those who have been notified to appear before the board in District No. 5 is published herewith. Beginning at the top of the first column the names appear in the rotation in which they will be called. The members of the board in District No. 5 are Samuel B. Reynolds, chairman, Frank A. Fletcher and Dr. M. E. Purcell. The board will meet in room 318, City Hall.

A loaf of bread weighing ten pounds and keeping fresh three weeks is the sort that is found on the army table. The bread has the appearance of being wholesome and nutritious rather than delicately palatable and it is said to be greatly relished by the regulars and recruits.

U.S. TO FIGHT CLAIMS FOR EXEMPTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—President Wilson today ordered that all "slackers" who failed to appear for their exemption be reported to the Department of Justice and certified into the national army by the adjutant general of the state.

Should these men fail to report to the adjutant general within five days after notification of their certification into the army, they will be reported to the adjutant general of the army for his action.

The government is preparing to fight claims of exemption from the draft.

Concerned at the great number of those attempting to avoid service, the provost marshal's office today announced that exemptions in agriculture and other industries will be carefully scrutinized.

"MARRIAGE SLACKER" TO BE SOUGHT OUT

As a direct slap at "marriage slackers," the government will automatically appeal from every exemption on the ground of marriage.

The purpose of the appeal is to obtain nationwide uniformity in exemption rulings which is regarded as otherwise impossible from 4577 local boards.

All registrants are invited by General Crowder to report any improper exemptions.

Discussing industrial exemptions, General Crowder said district boards were "powerless to relieve cases in which private loss and hardship rather than a national necessity are at stake."

"Otherwise, another man would be asked to offer his life in order that this man's material benefit be served," said Crowder.

The problem of exempting men in agricultural and other industries, Crowder said, "must be solved with the success of the nation's military operations in mind."

As conservation of certain industries is necessary to military success, Crowder declared, the question in an individual case then becomes two-fold.

"First—is the industry in question necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or the effective operation of the military forces or the maintenance of the national interest during the emergency?"

"Second—Does the person by or in respect to whom the discharge is claimed occupy such a status in relation to the industry as to be indispensable?"

CITIZENS O.K. BONDS FOR BETTERMENT

Representative citizens from all sections of Alameda county attended a conference last night in the Commercial Club rooms of the Hotel Oakland called by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to discuss the approaching bond issues. At the conclusion of the conference, which proved most enlightening to all those present, a vote was taken upon the three proposed bond issues—$900,000 for the county's share of the Baseline bridge over the estuary; $1,000,000 for a new central hospital in Oakland, and $1,000,000 for additions to the county almshouse. The vote in favor of the county bridge was virtually unanimous, 75 in favor and 2 against. The opposing votes were from C. M. Miller, representing the Twenty-third Avenue Improvement Club, and M. Cuchot, an engineer. Miller explained that he favored the bridge, but desired that the money be taken out of the tax levy. Cuchot favored the expenditure of $10,000,000 for a subway. The vote in favor of the new county hospital was 91 to 1. The county infirmarium proposition was endorsed by a vote of 46 in favor and 14 against.

Harrison S. Robinson of the county institutions commission, and who had been chairman of the harbor committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce when the bridge matter was under consideration, explained the bond issues that will be voted on August 14, urging their necessity.

P. A. Haviland, county surveyor; Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the evening, and others also gave their views on the bridge and hospital questions.

With the approach of the bond election, the public's demand for a clear understanding of the issues involved grows and announcement was made last night of two other bond meetings for tonight, one in the Alameda city hall and the other under the auspices of the Civic Association of Alameda County in Oakland.

In discussions following explanations by speakers, representatives of men who gave false addresses in registering, upon the return of letters calling men for physical examination, agents have gone to the supposed addresses, only to find them in the middle of vacant lots, bridges and no

Gives Thanks for Tribune Aid in Hospital Plans

Editor The TRIBUNE:

The State Board of Charities and Corrections has requested me to extend to you its heartiest thanks for your splendid co-operation in our common project of presenting a constructive plan of administration for the Alameda county hospital. The Board of Supervisors, by the appointment of a representative commission to administer the county hospitals, has done a most creditable act and one which will meet with the approval of the public.

On August 14 the people of Alameda county will be called upon to vote for bonds for the construction of a new hospital on a site already purchased and to furnish adequate building to replace the temporary shack of the county infirmarium. The construction of new buildings, as well as the administration, has been delegated to the County Institutions Commission with full power to act. The personnel of this commission was chosen not only for the high character of its individual members, but because each of them in his own capacity represents experience and knowledge of some department necessary for the proper conduct of the proposed hospitals. We believe the people of Alameda county can and will repose full confidence in this commission, and we further believe they will have full assurance that if the money are furnished by the bond election, they will be wisely and economically administered.

In conclusion we again express our very sincere appreciation for the sustained effort and co-operation given this movement by a paper of the high standing of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

Very truly yours,
STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.
By B. H. PENDLETON, Member.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—That the United States Government will step in and take charge of the Southern Pacific Railway system if the four railroad brotherhoods carry out their threat to strike Saturday night was the opinion expressed today by railroad men.

A. Phillips, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine Men, spokesman for the Brotherhood committee, declined to say today what action would be taken in regard to the offer of arbitration by W. B. Scott, general manager of the Southern Pacific. The committee intended to disperse last night, but remained today to consider Scott's offer further.

Scott proposed immediate arbitration by a committee of five or more, chosen by the federal board of conciliation. The grievances of the Brotherhood rest upon decisions by Scott in ninety-three cases decided under previous agreement with the railroad.

After a conference with Southern Pacific attorneys, Scott said: "I propose that these questions be left to a board of arbitration composed of five members, two to be selected by your organizations, two by the company, they to select a fifth. * * * or will join with you in a request for government mediation under the Newlands act; if unable to settle all matters by mediation, then unsettled portions to be left to arbitration under the Newlands act."

"The present is no time in which to enforce demands by strike. Patriotism should be the dominant factor in the mind of every man in the country at this time. We are doing moving large amounts of freight men for the government. The company desires to be more than satisfied with its employees, and has no size or inclination to withhold from them any compensation or emolument. We desire a liberal interpretation of their schedules. Here you will realize that an amicable arrangement of this strike is a patriotic duty."

Representatives of the brotherhoods said the strike was authorized by a 97 per cent vote of all the railroad officials pointed out to the committee than to strike.

VESSELS OVERDUE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Fears were expressed in shipping circles today for the safety of the Steamship Company's British freight steamer Waimarino bound for San Francisco from Sydney and now four days overdue. The steamer, heavily laden with a rich cargo, is eleven days out from Honolulu. Nothing has been heard from it since it cleared the port. It is equipped with a light wireless apparatus.

No word has been received from the Union Steamship Company's steamer Waimarino, now 32 days overdue from Auckland.

START ROUND-UP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The campaign against slackers took concrete form today when the government authorities here began to comb the county districts for San Franciscans whom it is claimed fled to the "fall timber" to avoid registering. Three arrests have been made within the last twenty-four hours at remote points. John Reynolds, 22 years old, was taken into custody at Portola, George Afendros, who claims to be 33, but whom the authorities claim is 30, was captured in Yreka. Albert Hufford, who claims to be over the age, although admitting that he is but 31, was gathered in in Shasta county.

FAKE ADDRESSES

Meantime, the Department of Justice is meeting with difficulty finding material to use against the slackers. The adequate and effective operation of the national emergency act.

MURPHY'S HITS PUT OAKS BACK INTO FOURTH PLACE

Acosta Is Hit Hard and Often, But Oaks Play Errorless Ball Behind Him; Tiger Pitchers Wild

Special to The TRIBUNE.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Del Howard's Oakland club is back in fourth place today, and if young Midget Acosta can get by with kind of victories that he put over yesterday and the Oaks can manage to finish on the long end of the score with such exhibitions as they put up yesterday, Howard's squad should stay in fourth place—and listen, if the Bees keep on slipping the way they have threatened to do in the last few weeks, the Oaks might even go back into third place.

The Oaks won, 6 to 2, yesterday, but they have Rod Murphy to thank for the fact that they did not just barely nose in by a 3-to-2 score. For after they had chances galore to put men around the paths in the early frames of the game, the Oaks went into the seventh leading by a 2-to-1 score. Two walks in a row sent Schorr to the clubhouse and Decanniere rushed out on the mound to walk two more, walking in an Oakland run. Then came Rod Murphy with a three-base swing that cleaned up the bases, driving in three runs. But Murphy died on the paths, for there was no one else to hit in the pinch for the Oaks.

TEN WALKS GIVEN TO OAKS

Acosta was hit for eleven safeties, the Tigers shooting them around in all directions. But he issued only one walk and the Oaks played one of their few and far-between errorless games behind him. Schorr, who pitched for the Oaks yesterday, was a complete graduate, performed in just the opposite style. The Oaks did little in the way of hitting, making only seven hits for the game, but Schorr issued six walks in his six and one-third innings on the mound, and when Decanniere went out for relief work, he walked four men in his inning and two-thirds.

Murphy drove in all of the runs that crossed the plate through any special Oakland effort. In the first frame it was his single that chased Lane home after Lane had walked and stolen second with two out. The next Oakland run came in the fifth when Acosta walked, Mensor singled, Middleton sacrificed and Chadbourne failed to hold Lane's long drive, Acosta scoring.

MURPHY'S TRIPLE COUNTS

With two out in the last of the fifth the Tigers started for their first run. Callahan, Simon and Schorr single, putting over a run. The seventh was the Oaks' big inning when Schorr walked Acosta and Mensor. Decanniere went to the rescue and walked Middleton and Lane, forcing in one run. Then Murphy's triple chased in three more, and on Miller's boulder to Galloway, Murphy was thrown out at the plate.

With Quinn pitching after Decanniere had given way to a pinch hitter, Murphy opened the ninth with a single but after Miller had flied out, Murphy was caught with too big a lead off first and was run down between first and second. Daley's single, a walk, Callahan's single and Moore's long fly to Lane gave the Tigers their second run in their half of the ninth. But then Stallard ran out of pinch-hitters and when Quinn went to bat for himself with two runners on the paths, his fly to Miller ended the game.

ERICKSON BETTER THAN BEAVERS IN TIGHT BATTLE

Olaf Erickson climbed out farther in front in the race for individual honors among the Coast League pitchers yesterday when he tossed out Hough in a great 2 to 1 pitching battle with the Bees. The book and lead winner of the season, also it counts in the old 1917 pennant race by putting the Seals one game farther ahead. For, with the Angels losing yesterday, the Seals are five and a half games out ahead of the second place club.

Also, the Beavers dropped into their fifth place berth so that Oakland fans are pulling for the team to keep on cleaning up on the northern side. The idea that the Oaks may come back home next week within striking distance of a first division berth.

Hollock was back in the game for the Beavers yesterday and just at present Hough is figured as about the best pitcher bet on the Portland payroll, so there is not the cry of picking on a bunch of opposites that furnished an alibi for the northern crew after yesterday's game. Babe Horton underwent an operation yesterday in Portland that will keep him out of the game at least a couple of months if not for the balance of the season. Farmer was back in the game so the outlook was complete yesterday.

Pinelli, who pitched the only way a club with his present material than he could, was back in the game yesterday. Babe Horton underwent an operation yesterday in Portland that will keep him out of the game at least a couple of months if not for the balance of the season. Farmer was back in the game so the outlook was complete yesterday.

Bill Bernhard Is Rated As Winning Pitcher for Bees

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 2.—Bill Bernhard, Salt Lake Bees, now shares honors with Walter Boone in the pitching race, each having won three games yesterday. Bernhard pitched three innings yesterday and his sudden act in jumping out of the dugout and going to work with only three pitches on the mound, up exercise, so surprised his Bees that they forgot the losing habit they have developed. TEAM PLAY IS THE TECHNICAL HIGH HOPE OF 1917

Wally Martin, coach of Oakland Technical High School, has a big job ahead of him in shaping up this year's football team. But if he succeeds in working up a good team play, something that was lacking on last year's team, he can stand the test of such stars as Johnny Black, Skip Starnett and Mike Sanford. The team that represented Technical last year was not stars, but from present indications there will be no scintillating players on the squad unless it is "Cutie" MacGill, captain-elect.

The school is called for next Wednesday on the new Technical field. With the four-year gymnasium rule in force, the biggest turnout in the history of local high school athletics is looked for. Where in former years the boys were required to take only one year of physical training, this year's plans drawn up by Physical Director Cecil Martin, call for physical training in all four years of the high school work. By turning out for football or some other sport, the boys will be excused from the routine gymnasium training, and an enormous squad will probably result from the new plan.

JACK DEMPSEY KNOCKS OUT NORTON; CHET MCINTYRE AND DOWNEY IN DRAW

Jack Dempsey out short a three-one evening at Emeryville arena by knocking out Al Norton in the first round of their main event encounter. The fight was a good one while it lasted, but after only a minute of the entertainment, Norton tried to slide step out of a corner and was caught off his balance by a left hook. Though not badly hurt, Norton took the count of nine, and arose with caution.

When the fighters went to it again, Dempsey started rushing tactics again and after getting Norton in a corner, he planted a left on his face. Norton was unable to cover in time and a right hook caught him squarely on the chin, putting him down for the count. The knockout brought the crowd to its feet and every one started for the door with something to talk about besides the previous bouts on the card.

The bout which led up to the main event were not exactly thrillers and the small crowd on hand was not in the humor to receive them well. Chet McIntyre, although undoubtedly a good man, was matched with too cautious a scrapper in Jack Downey. The result was a draw after four rounds of "take 'em out" entreaties by the crowd. McIntyre showed all the cleverness which he has been credited with but Downey did not put up the kind of a fight that would make for interest against a wise old boy like McIntyre.

Game Commission Head Explains Law

The opening of deer season in the coast range mountains on August 1 is bringing many inquiries to Frank M. Newbert, president of the State Fish and Game Commission, regarding the law which prohibits the transportation of deer from an open to a closed district.

In explanation of this new law Newbert says that in order to bring a deer from an open to a closed district the hunter must swear to an affidavit telling where he killed it and when. If he fails to do so, he is liable to a fine of $100. The law is a permit from the State Fish and Game Commission. This says Newbert, is to protect his friends from arrest and also to guard against violations of the game laws.

Willie Webb won decision from Cyclone Williams.
Battling Rudy was given a decision over Frank Luscher.
Eddie Lannon won decision from Young McClure.

house tactics. He made it a hard go for Williams. Right at the start Willie got into intensive action and scored heavily. Before the first round was over Willie got a little careless, however, and took one on the jaw for his foolishness. Webb altered his tactics in the second and played for the midsection with good results. In the third Webb again centered his attack on Willie's head and in the fourth Williams covered up his stomach and the two rubbed heads. Cyclone did go on a rampage but did not enough effect resulted to give him consideration in the verdict.

POOR CROWD ON HAND.

Eddie Lannon was too strong a boy for Young McClure and took the decision all round and did not show enough to make up for the lead given him in the first three rounds. The relative interest in the preliminary bouts and the main events was a good indication of what the crowd was only fairly well accepted by the crowd, the McIntyre-Downey go was heated, and the main winner, Jack Murphy gave the bout to Luscher. Dick Adams gave it to Rudy and Bob Shand put in the deciding bout for the class of the crowd offered.

LIVERMORE HILLS ABOUND IN DEER SAYS HUNTER

There are plenty of deer in the hills around Livermore. That is the outstanding feature of the reports brought in by first day hunters. Joseph Laserot is laying claim to the first deer of the season as a result of a 150-pound animal that he brought into town yesterday afternoon.

Laserot hails from Buhol and did not have to go far from his home yesterday morning to find fresh deer tracks. Following up the trail he says that he came upon several deer feeding and saw plenty of evidences of others in the hills. He singled out his prey but did not finish it with a first shot, having to follow it some distance until it weakened and he came close enough for a second and third shot.

Another prodigy in the golfing world is Rudolph Knepper, the fifteen-year-old city champion of Sioux City, Iowa. He is laying claim to the first deer of the season as a result of a 150-pound animal that he brought into town yesterday afternoon.

RISBERG'S DOUBLE HELPS CHICAGO IN LEAD

HOW THEY STAND TONIGHT.
Today's game at Boston will tell whether the White or Red Sox will lead the procession after their present series.
By winning the Red Sox would lead like this:
Boston, .625; Chicago, .620.
And if the White Sox win they will step out in this fashion:
Chicago, .557; Boston, .615.
The Phillies have returned to the business of first divisioning and a victory today would put them in second place, displacing the Cardinals.

Swede Risberg's double was not needed to give Chicago a win over the Red Sox to recover yesterday's place in the American League yesterday but it helped. For Risberg's double in the seventh started the White Sox to their fourth run in a 4 to 0 win. Buck Weaver's single in the third inning also figured in advancing a White Sox run around the paths. The other two runs came in the first frame when Jackson, connected with Weaver, run with a man on bases. Weaver hit twice, and Gandil and Risberg each once. Hooper went hitless for the Red Sox; Duffy Lewis hit a double. Risberg made an error.

Noyes took a beating from Cleveland; he retired in favor of a pinch hitter in the seventh but the rally left the Athletics one run shy of evening up the score. Bodie went hitless, and Bates hit a triple.
For Detroit Heilmann hit a double; Vitt hit a double and a single and scored a run. Young hit one and scored once. Whitely continued to hit for the Giants, hitting two and scoring one against Pittsburgh. Ward hit a double and single. Johnson and Cuthbert each hit one and scored once. Reuther broke into the game with the Red Sox, pinch hitting in the ninth and failed to hit. Hal Chase hit one and scored one.

Banchoff hit one in four chances in Philadelphia's 2 to 1 ten inning win over the Cards.

Manager Moran made room for him by releasing outfielder Claude Cooper to Louisville and sending Shortstop McGuffigan to Richmond. The latter played great ball while suiting for Banchoff but Moran concluded he had too many infielders hanging around.

TWELVE-INNING TIE.
The Zerkules and Verona battled twelve innings to a 9 to 9 tie on the Verona grounds Sunday afternoon. Poor fielding at the beginning by both teams helped to run up the score. Elder, on third for the visitors, came through with a double and two singles, besides putting in with a nice line of fielding around third. Some sport writer has been keeping track of what the able athletes do on their birthdays, hoping that some eminent pastime would pull a George Mullin and do something out of the ordinary. George, you will recall, on the thirty-second anniversary of his arrival on this earth, kicked in with a no-hit game. Guy Morton of the Cleveland Indians has been nearest to the Mullin class. He celebrated his twenty-four birthday in Boston on June 1 and the celebration took the shape of a one-hit game against the Red Sox, whose one hit was made by a person who can hit—George (Eabe) Ruth.

WALTER COX WINS FEATURE STAKE THIRD TIME

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 2.—Busy's Lasse, winner of the $10,000 M. and M. stake at Detroit last week, repeated her victory in another $10,000 Grand Circuit race, the Paper Mills Stake, for 2,000 trotters yesterday, this time winning in straight heats. The field in each race was much the same.

This was the third time Walter Cox has won the Paper Mills Stake and the best time for the event today, 2:06 1/4, equaling the record for the race.
Harvest Gale was first choice of the bettors in the 2:12 trot for three-year-olds, but Miss Bertha Dillon breezed by him in the stretch in both heats.

2:14 Pace, receiving much encouragement from the crowd, with Spy Direct, he took the third and fourth heats after Ben Billings, the favorite, had won the first two. A bad break in the fifth heat just after passing the quarter pole robbed George of his chance and Ben Billings then won easily.

The 2:17 pace was the fourth race scheduled, but was postponed by track officials.

Brighter Outlook for the White Sox in Pennant Battle
B. H. HAMILTON.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Things look brighter for the White Sox today. If they can squeeze out another victory in Boston, the sailing from now until they reach Chicago should be comparatively free from ripples. And as they ease along toward home, the Red Sox will be meeting the toughest crowd in San Johnson's alley.
Reb Russell's hinky, crooked left arm has saved the Sox from a beating for the time being. What will happen next is entirely up to Joe Benz, Red Faber, or Jim Scott.

Starting tomorrow the White Sox should run into weak opposition in the Athletics and Senators. The Red Sox at the same time will be entertaining Cleveland and Detroit. Both of these clubs have been tough nuts for the world's champions this year. The turning point in the season is now appearing during these contests as later in the season.

There seems to be a very small chance of heading the Sox off a heading for the Cardinals at the same time the Giants were steam-rolling the Pirates, and the leaders one more game in the van and today they are speeding ahead by nine full games.

Another blow was delivered to Reds by the Dodgers, who took their third straight game and kicked Matty's upstarts into fourth place.

Schuler Ousted From Matchmaker's Position
Transbay fight promoters are still having their troubles and the Associated Promoters' Organization is not proving the happy solution of their 1100 difficulties that was expected. Alex Greggains withdrew from the organization but even that did not help matters enough, for now Frank Schuler has been crowded out and Harry Foley has been installed as matchmaker. Schuler is charged with failing to carry out his advertised fight cards, letting too many substitutes creep in, and also with giving too large medals. This announced reason for the change would seem to indicate that the organization as it now stands proposes to give the fans a cheaper grade of fights than they had under Schuler's regime, although the determination to stick to advertised bouts is a good improvement.

Manager Lee Fohl of the Cleveland Indians is firm in his belief that the style of pitching used by the White Sox (twirlers) is a violation of the rules and he means to keep agitators until something is done about it. He has a collection of balls used by Chicago twirlers, he says is an exhibit no one can get around. Each ball carries the tell-tale black spot showing where it has been shined by the use of some foreign substance or other.

The pitching in the Delaware County league must be remarkably good when a big league veteran like Charles Dooin has a batting average of only .045. In seven games the sorrel thrush has been at bat twenty-two times and made only one hit. It will be recalled that even J. Franklin Baker did not find the Delaware County pitching so easy during his career in it.

Eleven Bouts on Benefit Card Tomorrow
Willie Ritchie vs. Johnny McCarthy, Willie Meehan vs. Jack Dempsey, and Chet McIntyre vs. Al Norton will be the three feature bouts on the big California Artillery benefit boxing card at Dreamland rink tomorrow night. The card has been completed and the fighters are reported in good condition for their evening action. The boxing card is wide and indications are that one of the biggest crowds that has ever turned out to a fight card around the bay area the four round game started will be on hand to help swell the coffers of the California Artillery.

There will be eleven bouts on the big card, one more having been added to the ten originally scheduled. Even with eleven bouts, the card does not present all of the boxers who wanted to get in and do their bit by volunteering their services for the benefit card. But a card of more than eleven bouts could not very well be accommodated so the management of the affair had to call a halt somewhere.

The full program of bouts is as follows:
Willie Ritchie vs. Johnny McCarthy, Willie Meehan vs. Jack Dempsey, Chet McIntyre vs. Al Norton, Herb Brodie vs. Jack Ketchell, Harry Peisinger vs. Henry Gassman, Jack Downie vs. Eddie Palmer, Eddie Campi vs. Frankie Tucker, Joe Coughlin vs. Pat Bradley, Eddie White vs. Pickles Martin, Frank Barrieau vs. Frankie Jones, Mexican Kid Carter vs. Young Jack Johnson.

NOT A CHINAMAN.
Dick Ching, the new Pittsburgh pitcher, is not a Chinaman. That is his right name. Last year he played under the name of Allen in the South Atlantic league in order to preserve his college "amateur" standing. He has just completed a course in Spring Hill college at Ohio city of the game it has been discovered that the New York club is after him. Ching is a left-hander.

MANY COMPLAINTS

MADE ON GARBAGE

Four hundred complaints concerning the garbage situation were received yesterday, Commissioner F. J. Jackson told the city council today. The cases have not been touched, he said.

The council will await the report of the engineers of the state board of health who are now surveying the situation.

At the time that the council taken action, said Commissioner Edwards.

Upon his motion it was ordered that all complaints in the hands of Commissioner

Jackson be turned over to the garbage company.

Letters forwarded upon threats have been received from citizens who have endeavored without result during the last month to have their garbage carried away, Dr. Jackson further stated.

STOCK and BOND BY WIRE FROM NEW YORK CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO

PRODUCE and GRAIN EASTERN & FOREIGN

STOCK EXPORTS ARE FORBIDDEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—President Wilson today forbade export of any iron and steel plate, pig iron, and steel scrap and steel billets from this country except such as the allies need for "actual war purposes."

Other iron and steel products are allowed to be freely licensed, but only to the allies.

The President's order sent to the Commerce Department and Export License Board, added the application for licenses for iron and steel plates and structural shapes must be in before August 10; that such articles shall be completely made up and manufactured before then and that such licenses shall be valid only in case such shipments are covered by ocean or railroad bill of lading dated on or before August 15, this year.

The President's order defined the meaning of the general term "explosive" as used in the original embargo proclamation of July 1, and included:

Either alcohol, sulphur, sulphuric acid and its salts; acetone, nitric acid and its salts; derivatives of benzol, phenol and its derivatives of toluol, mercury and its salts; ammonia and its salts; glycerine, potash and its salts and cyanide.

Norway, facing starvation if the United States cuts off exports of food, is ready to release a million tons of her shipping in return for the privilege of importing food—principally from the United States.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the Norwegian mission, the United States declared unreservedly that Norway faced starvation if the United States enforced an export embargo against her.

Norway also would give a guarantee that none of the food imported would reach Germany.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 2.—New regulations prohibiting exports were issued by the Swedish government today. They cover a long list of articles, the most important being provisions.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Cantaloupes, of which there were five cars in the local market today, dropped considerably in price. Standards selling for $1.50 to $1.75 in place of yesterday's $2 to $2.25, prices bringing $1.35 to $1.60 and flats 75 cents. Commission men said this reduction was accounted for partly by the fact that his shippers refused to ship cantaloupes at the fields at the previous prices asked by growers.

Tomatoes continued firm today and maintained yesterday's price of from $2.50 to $3 for Sacramento river lugs and Stockton lugs, which arrived in just sufficient quantity to meet the demand. The price is expected to go down soon.

Potatoes, which were a limited supply, met with a firm demand at the same quotations as yesterday.

There was a larger shipment of blackberries today and the lower quotation declined to $1.50. Some of the black Logan berries were somewhat overripe but the average was of former prices.

Receipts of pears, peaches and apples in the market dropped in the early part of the day.

Play & Play

MUSICAL COMEDY
COMING TO ORPHEUM.

The "Potash and Perlmutter" play has made the Oakland Orpheum the mecca for crowds this week, and Henry Shumacher's triumph in the role of Al. Potash is the talk of the city. The man who blended humor, wit, tears, sentiment, love, meanness, tragedy and joy in "Potash and Perlmutter" made a mighty nice blend of things theatrical.

Lee Millar shows his class as a sterling artist by the convincing portrayal of the exacting role of Maxine Perlmutter. Jane Urban is her sparkling self as the designer, Miss Goldman, while George Burge, Charles Tule and Ernest Van Pelt blend life and vivacity to the picture, with Miss Ruth Saville, Max Thorne and Anna MacNaughton adding feminine beauty to the performance.

Beginning next Sunday the Orpheum will present a pretentious production of the Oliver Morosco musical comedy, "Singer's Midgits."

SINGER'S MIDGITS
DRAW TO PANTAGES.

The second week of Singer's Midgits, the record-breaking attraction at the Oakland Pantages, is no less successful than the first. With new bits in their mammoth act and new vaudeville offerings on the bill with them, the Lilliputian actors, comedians, acrobats and musicians are scoring one of the biggest triumphs ever seen in Oakland.

The midgits include Carl Floran, comedian, singer, a robust and rickety Becker, animal trainer, acrobat, off the stage an engineer and graduate of a noted European electrical college, Alois Yachek, the strongest man of his size in the world, who can lift a pony and its rider, and a graduate of one of Vienna's most famous dental colleges, Gabor Bagl, the diminutive comedian and boxer, is a law-ier, graduating with honors from the Prague Law College. Anna Neider, the diminutive equestrian, whose "little school" was trained by herself, holds a degree in philosophy. Doris Vieg, the little prima donna of the unique organization, is the graduate of a French music academy. Julius, the comedian, is a theological graduate.

Aside from these interesting facts they have an act which has never before been seen on the stage. That was held over a second week due to the enormous popular demand due to accommodate the thousands unable to obtain seats during the first week. The show broke all records for a theater in Oakland.

With the second week of the midgits is an all-star vaudeville bill.

COLUMBIA COMPANY WEEKS.

TO SUNDAY IN SIX WEEKS.

appearing at the Columbia Theater for forty-five weeks, will give his farewell performance in "The Season's Toll" and the company will then disband for a six-weeks' vacation. While the troupe is enjoying itself the theater will be re-modeling.

King will start immediately for the East with his brother, Director Herman King, whose leadership of the Columbia jazz orchestra has been a delight to the patrons. King will devote himself to the gathering of the best talent for next season's shows and his brother will select new music.

According to the plans of the management the Columbia will remain closed for six weeks and the company will re-open for another long engagement on September 16, with new shows, brilliant costumes and new faces. No material change in the cast is presaged.

In the interim the players are appearing in "Sixty Days" a play written and produced by Lou Jacobs, and introducing King and Hayes in the main comedy roles. "The Follies" will play on Sunday only.

VIRGINIA BRISSAC

TO SAV FAREWELL.

Responding at every performance to the demands for a speech, making one, and revealing the results of the efforts and thunderous approval from audiences that fill the Bishop playhouse to capacity, Virginia Brissac is bidding farewell to Oakland.

Never before was the clever leading woman of the Bishop stock company done better work than in her last performance, in the role of "the woman" in "The Eternal Magdalene" and in consequence her departure will be the more keenly felt.

Of course, the rest of the cast supporting her is superb, for the pick of the play house company will all go with her. Smith Davies plays up to her as Elijah Bradshaw, George Knowlton renders a splendid performance as her husband, Ben Erway is his very youthful son and Minnie Sisson his charming daughter. J. Anthony Smythe, a very human newspaper man, is seen at his best. Garrity is a scream as the susceptible judge, George P. Webster is ideal as the pastor, Will Lloyd is deep and wise, and Hugh Metcalfe is loud and slangy as the evangelist.

The final engagement of Marta Golden is announced and will be seen on Monday next for the first time in the title role of the comedy that has created a furore, "Our Mrs. McChesney."

"HUMAN HEARTS"

DRAW TO HIPPODROME.

Proving itself one of the most popular productions shown this season, "Human Hearts," running this week as the vehicle of the Hippodrome stock company, is attracting large crowds at every performance. Virginia Thornton and Roscoe Karns, the two leading people of the big company, are proving themselves light favorites. They are well supported, Producing Manager Charles King having quitted. Given the difficult part of Limpy Morgan, a street urchin who elses out a precarious existence by selling newspapers, Vilma Stock, idol in the eyes of hundreds of east bay theater-goers, earns applause. Strong work is also done by Miss Gladys Kingsbury as Jeanette Logan, an unkind, self-centered, and as Frederick Armistead, a bon vivant with considerable brains but no conscience. Howard Nugent, who plays the part of Frank Cooley as Mose, the old manservant.

Frank Bonner, who is portraying the droll part of Jim Mason, a tramp with a sense of humor, does clever work, while Clayton Smith as the governor's secretary, Margaret Nugent as the old mother, and Roy W. Hagg as the prison warden are well received. Little Bonita Semmens appears as the daughter of the blacksmith and put a real finish to the play.

Clever vaudeville numbers appear between each act. Next week the Hippodrome stock company will present the most famous of all English plays, "East Lynne."

FEATURE FILMS AT

NEW T. & D. THEATER.

Vivian Martin, Sessue Hayakawa, Tom Forman and George Egan, with Helen Jerome Eddy, form the star list at the New T. & D. Theater this week-end. The first three are featured in a strong, vital story of racial love, "Forbidden Paths," which proved a tensely and exceedingly interesting tale of a Japanese in love with a young American girl, who, realizing that race is hopeless, sacrifices life and honor in order that she may secure her happiness. Forceful in its dramatic tempo, poignant in its acting and characterization, "Forbidden Paths" is good entertainment.

George Egan, supported by Helen Jerome Eddy, are a re-statement of a refreshing and amusing comedy-drama, "The Cook of Canyon Camp," the tale of a man whose sole ambition was to get a flapjack palace of his own. Breezy, snappy, with plenty of exciting action, "The Cook of Canyon Camp" provided a joyous amusement of laughter and interest that sent T. & D. patrons away with chuckles of delight.

The Hearst-Examiner News, showing the events of the world, graphically told in pictures, featured the dramatic attractions. The musical accompaniments by the T. & D. Orchestra were excellent. While Albert Hay Malotte's recital on the Master Wurlitzer orchestral-organ was rendering in his inimitable manner, giving expression to every shade and meaning necessary in the playing of difficult numbers.

STUART HOLMES SEEN

AT KINEMA THEATER.

Stuart Holmes certainly hands out a jolt at the Kinema, in the form of a surprise package, for he starts out as a poor boob clerk who suddenly acquires $10,000 and lands in New York with a desire to spend it. He does it with the aid of a couple of crooks who of course starts a lot of excitement. Just about the time the thrilling incident's get thickest Holmes hands has a new surprise.

Sunday the Kinema starts its week's showing of the masterful Laemmle production "Joan the Woman," which has been universally called the most perfect film ever produced, featuring Geraldine Farrar, Wallace Reid, Robert Rosworth, Tully Marshall, James Neil, Charles Cary Raymond, Hutton, Chas. Owen, Murdock, Dan Egan, etc.—a truly wonderful gathering of stars.

In fact the whole production is finished on the "same wonderful scale of perfection. And while it is based on an historical incident, Cecil de Mille the producer, has linked it up to our own times.

THRILLING PICTURES

SHOWN AT FRANKLIN.

Dorothy Dalton, better known as "The Flame of the North," has returned to the Franklin Theater, not for a casual visit, but because the people of Oakland demand that those who did not see her the first time be permitted to see a "chance." The play takes place in the period of 1858 when the gold-mad crowds swarmed for Jack Hovey, the proprietor of the Midas and the "flame" is his trump card. One night the stranger comes to the place, his big, buxom wife, money picks the "flame" to trim him.

Miss Dalton's role is admirably suited to her. She is a beautiful Carmen impulsive, without conscience, daring enough to act as she chooses. Yet when she meets the stranger and realizes, for the first time, that she is in love, she is willing to make a tremendous sacrifice and to brave the fears of the dance hall people in order to win the regard of the man she had intended to "trim."

Accompanying this picture of fast life of the North is a picture of another type, entitled "The Car of Chance," with Franklin Farnum and Brownie Vernon. This is not a slap-stick, vulgar senseless comedy, but a picture of a man's possibilities. A young man expects a fortune
